'Where Will We Go?' Penn Villagers Ask

By FRANK DOSTAL
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Faced with possible eviction, Penn Villagers sat helplessly yesterday morning wondering who would be the first to receive a 30-day notice.

The big question in their minds was, "Where will we go if we are first?"

Sixty-five families living in the 117 unit development will be leaving as a result of a recent Public Housing administration order directing that public housing developments be cleared of all high-income families.

IN INTERVIEWS WITH many of the families yesterday, it was learned that all would be willing to leave Penn Village if there was some place to go. All had been looking for other places to live, some for as long as three years, but were unable to find any they could afford. Others, particularly those with children, could find nothing at all.

Real estate men, they said, only turned them away, or offered them places at such high prices they couldn't even think of buying them. For most, it was a case of sitting and waiting to see what finally will happen.

Typical of the search for homes was the experience of Mrs. Robert M. Hartenstein, 27 Custer court, who tried telephoning real estate offices for three hours yesterday morning.

At one office, she was told there was a house available for $5400.

"Where is it?" she asked.

"How much money have you got?" came the answer.

Unwilling to discuss terms until she knew a little about the place, she replied:

"Where is it, and what is it like?"

"Well," the voice replied, "if you don't have at least $2000 to put down, there is no sense even talking about it."

Looking back on the conversation, Mrs. Hartenstein remarked:

"Where can you get money like that when you are trying to raise children. And the cost of living—oh, my gosh."

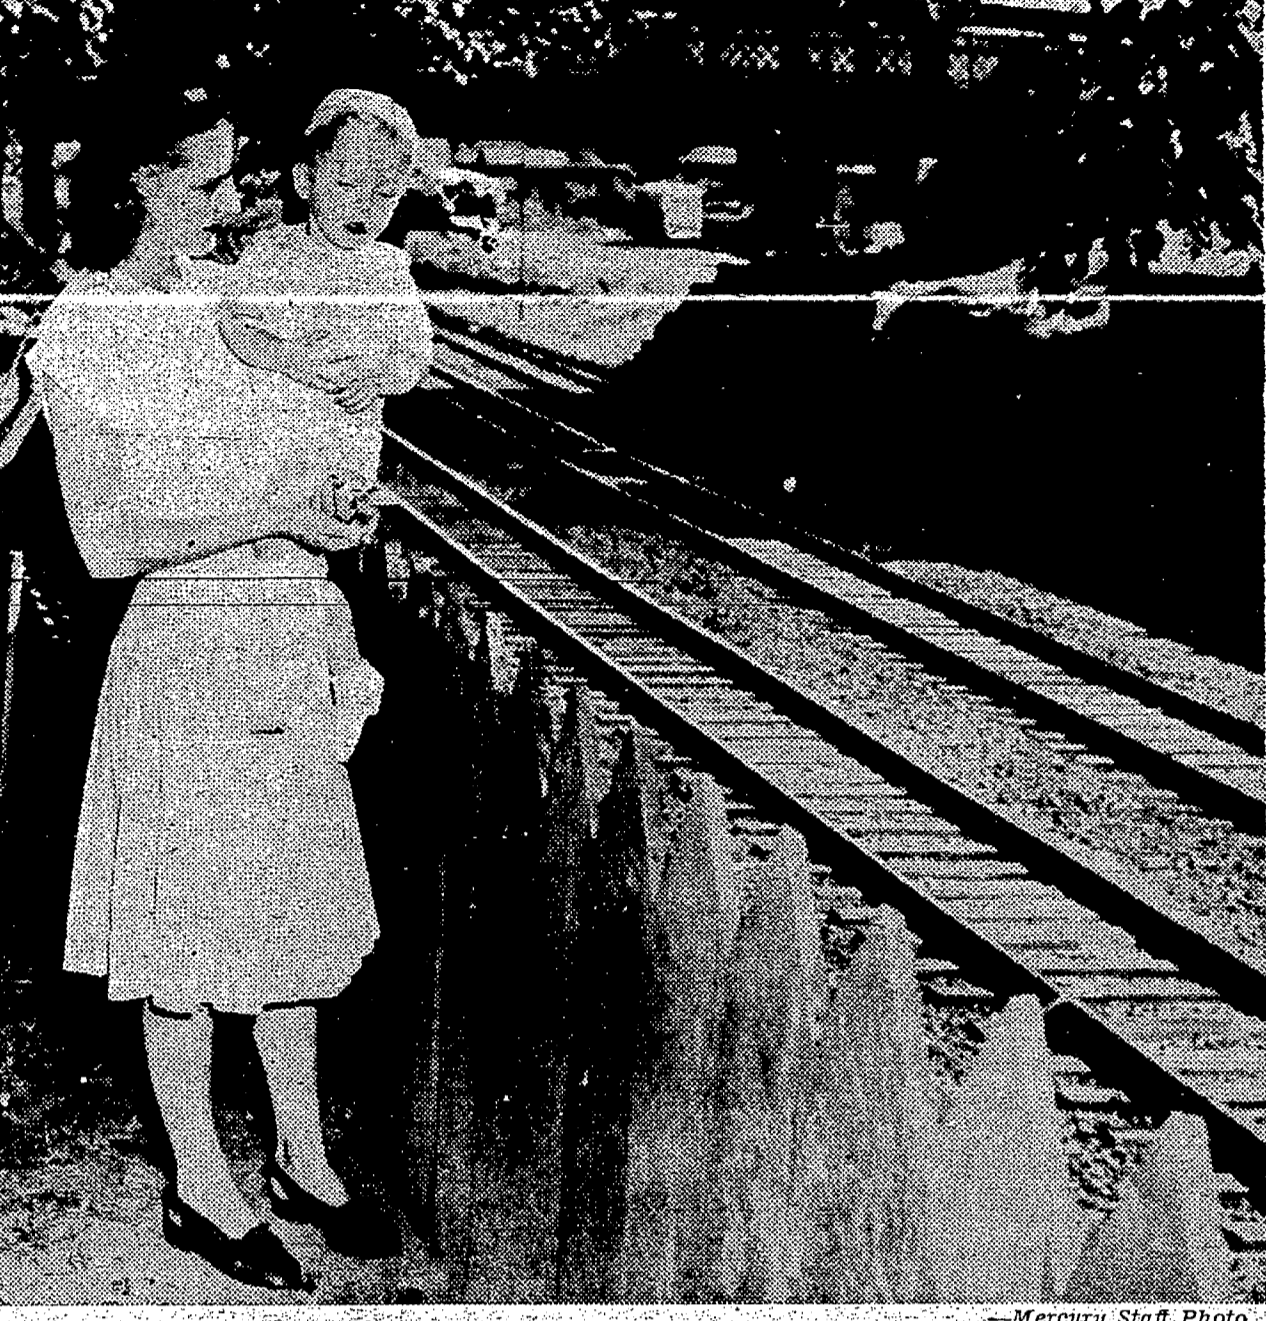

MRS. CLIFFORD GEORGE, 452 Buttonwood street, said the real estate agent she questioned merely told her to go home. He had nothing he could offer her and didn't know when he would get an apartment or home to rent.

In some instances, evictions would mean that couples or whole families would be forced to separate.

Mrs. Samuel Berardi, 26 Myrtle street, said simply: "We don't know where to look."

Mother, Child Survey Scene of Near Tragedy

Billy Stetler, 21 months, closes his eyes and turns his head away from the spot where he tumbled nearly 15 feet Wednesday night onto the Reading tracks below. Although he suffered nothing worse than an injured left leg, which now is bandaged, his mother, Mrs. William Stetler, carried him to the scene yesterday to show him the perfect spot not to play any more. Mother and child shield some of the boards on which Billy stood in his backyard at 372 Apple street before he tumbled over the fence. Behind Billy's head is the telephone pole down which his mother climbed to rescue him.

Count Folke Bernadotte Is Slain in Jerusalem By Jewish Irregulars

By DANIEL DE LUCE

TEL AVIV, Israel, Sept. 17 (AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator in Palestine was shot and killed today in Jerusalem.

Slain with the Swedish nobleman was his French assistant, Col. Andre Pierre Sorel.

An official United Nations telegram to the Security council declared the two men were "brutally assassinated by Jews of unknown identity in a cold blooded attack."

The telegram said the killers used an Israeli army type jeep and shot Bernadotte at pointblank range at a roadblock "well within the Jewish lines" in Jerusalem's Katamon district.

BERNADOTTE WAS driven to Hadassah hospital on Mount Scopus where he died within a few minutes without regaining consciousness. Sorel was killed instantly.

The telegram telling of the attack was signed by Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, American member of the U. N. secretariat. U. N. officials in Paris and Lake Success said Bunche, a Negro, had been assigned to replace Bernadotte.

(A Jerusalem dispatch quoted Dr. Bernard Joseph, Israeli military governor for the Jewish part of Jerusalem, as saying all possible measures have been taken to apprehend the assassins.)

Mt. Carmel Man Is Injured As Car Hits Truck

A Mt. Carmel man suffered abrasions of the chest and possible fracture of the ribs at 2:15 o'clock this morning when the car he was driving rammed the rear of a parked truck on High street between Manataway and York.

Evans Simmonds, 30, alone in his 1947 coupe, was taken to Pottstown hospital in a Good Will ambulance.

Traveling east on High street, he apparently failed to see the flat-bottomed truck parked diagonally on the south side of the street.

The truck is leased by the Midwestern Construction company. Its driver, William B. Crawford, was staying in Pottstown overnight.

The entire front of the coupe was twisted to the right, in the direction of the truck. The truck, parked diagonally, was pushed around almost perpendicular to the curb. The jolted truck knocked down a parking sign and was pushed into a telephone pole.

Police said construction workers had been repeatedly warned not to park at that spot.

U. N. SUMMONED INTO SESSION

Security Council Called On Assassination of Mediator in Palestine

PARIS, Sept. 17 (AP)—The United Nations Security council has been summoned into emergency session tomorrow on the slaying of Count Folke Bernadotte, U. N. Palestine mediator.

In their shocked surprise, several U. N. officials said about the same thing when informed of the mediator's death. The comment generally was:

"Now all hell will break loose."

Officials ordered the pale blue and white flag of the U. N. to fly at half staff over the Palais de Chaillot.

THE REPORT ON Bernadotte's months of mediation in Palestine arrived at headquarters almost simultaneously with news of his death. "The Swedish count had undertaken the job the past Spring to exploit what he called a slight chance to settle the Holy Land problem."

Secretary-General Trygve Lie arranged to fly to Paris tomorrow from Norway. Acting Secretary-General Arkady A. Sobolev of Russia cabled instructions to Col. Aage Lundstroem, Bernadotte's chief of staff, to investigate the slaying and make a report.

NURSING SCHOOL GRADUATES NINE

Girls Receive Caps, Pins At Ceremonies Held in Junior High Auditorium

Nine Pottstown hospital student nurses put on the pins and caps of the registered nurse last night in graduation ceremonies in the Junior High school auditorium.

The impressive ceremony, which lasted more than an hour, ranged down the curtain on three years of intensive training at the hospital. About 300 attended.

The Rev. George A. Lineker, pastor of Christ Episcopal church, the principal speaker, adjured the young nurses to "give a little more than is necessary" in their work.

The father of a nurse who has completed her training and of another who is just starting, the Rev. Lineker likened the professions of ministry and nursing.

"Christ spent 75 percent of his time healing the sick," he pointed out.

He gave the group a parable. "I was watching a farmer plant wheat with a drill one day," he said, "and I asked him how much he planted in an acre."

"He told me that the standard rule was three bushels to the acre, but that he put in an extra peck for every bushel."

"All of us and you, of the graduating class, should figuratively plant an extra peck with every bushel!"

Farmer Uncovers Indian Treasures

By FRED SELBY
(Mercury Staff Writer)

With the ringing of his steel plow early last night, Michael J. Gresko, Pottstown RD 1, struck an enormous pile of Indian flints that may be worth much wampum—possibly more than $1000 of it.

And only gathering darkness prevented Gresko and his wife from an assault on the centuries-old jackpot that may lie beneath.

Gresko was plowing up a tomato field some 200 yards behind his home along Sanatoga road at Frick's Locks, when the 16-inch steel plow rang out at about 6:30 o'clock.

Since he had found Indian relics on the farm before and since his wife had hinted that only his farmerly refusal to stop for every funny-sounding stone has kept him from finding more, Gresko halted the tractor on a dime and plunged a spade into the dirt to mark the spot.

He called his wife, and together they did some last work with pick and shovel.

ABOUT A FOOT from the surface of the field was a huge oblong pile of Indian flints, each about six inches long, three inches wide and half an inch thick.

In two farm baskets they hauled away close to 400 of them to be cleaned and examined in the house.

Gresko resumed digging, hoping to strike other relics of an Indian grave which the flints undoubtedly mark. But it was dark before he could get more than a few inches below the (Continued on Page Two)

U. S. Officials Fear New Holy Land War

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—American officials were deeply concerned tonight for the possibility that the assassination of Count Bernadotte might wreck the uneasy truce between Jews and Arabs and touch off full scale fighting in Palestine again.

Secretary of State Marshall issued a statement declaring that he was "convinced the world will demand that the work" in which Bernadotte was engaged, the work of trying to establish permanent peace in Palestine, should be "vigorously pursued."

"It is particularly tragic," Marshall said, "that he should have been shot down at a time when he had achieved such a great measure of success."

The American government is expected to urge prompt steps by the United Nations to replace the slain mediator and other measures to avert, if at all possible, and complete breakdown of the truce system.

Pottstonian Installed As Head of Synagog

Rabbi Samuel H. Markowitz, a brother of Mrs. Abraham Cohen, 521 Beech street, and a native of Pottstown, was installed formally as head of the Beth David congregation, Wynnefield, Philadelphia, last night.

The Philadelphia post is Rabbi Markowitz, third synagog.

After he was graduated from Hebrew Union college, in Cincinnati, Ohio, with the degree of Doctor of Divinity, he went to a synagog at Fort Wayne, Ind.

Dr. Markowitz began his studies at the Philadelphia synagog after heading an Elmira, N. Y., synagog for several years.

The rabbi was born in Pottstown and graduated from the Pottstown Senior High school. He is author of a number of books on child psychology.

Philadelphia and New York rabbis participated in the installation service last night.

Spring Mount Man Dies in Fall From Construction Job

Joseph Stewart, 26, of Spring Mount, was fatally injured at 10:15 a. m. yesterday when he plunged 30 feet from a construction job on Barbadoes island in the Schuylkill river at Norristown.

At Montgomery hospital, Norristown, where he died five minutes after admission, physicians determined that death was caused by a compound fracture of the skull.

Coroner W. J. Rushong, who investigated, issued a certificate of accidental death.

Stewart was working for the Dravo corporation, of Philadelphia, contractors in charge of erecting a new addition to the Philadelphia Electric company power plant on the island.

WORKING 132 FEET above the ground, Stewart was cutting down a large tarpaulin when he fell. The screen had been erected to catch anything that might be dropped by workmen overhead.

It was believed that the tarpaulin ripped, causing the man to lose his balance on the eye-beam upon which he had been standing. He plunged to a concrete floor below.

Limerick Voters To Ballot on Plan For New School

Limerick township voters will be asked to approve a $210,000 debt increase for the construction of a new elementary school building when they go to the polls in the Nov. 2 general election.

That figure represents all but $1000 of the township's legally permissible indebtedness.

Township school directors decided at their meeting the past Sept. 10 to submit the proposition to the electorate.

School district officers said the proposed building would be one story high, with ten classrooms and one or two offices, seating pupils in grades one through six.

It would be built on at least 10 acres of ground, in accordance with State regulations.

JOHN K. DUNLAP, vice-president of the school board, pointed out, "The school, if approved by the voters, will be located conveniently for the two centers of population, Limerick and Linfield."

The school board has two locations in mind, but final decision on which will be purchased for part of the $210,000 will be made when the school board meets Oct. 1.

If township voters approve the proposal, construction will begin in December, with completion of the elementary school building expected by the beginning of the 1949 fall term.

Following the Oct. 1 school board session, pamphlets describing the building in detail will be distributed to Limerick township voters.

In it will be the figures on possible millage changes.

Dunlap said of the tax rate last night, "We're not sure what the change would be, but if it's something like a two mill increase, that means someone with property valued at $2000 will have to pay only $4 more a year for greatly improved modern school facilities."

THE NEW SCHOOL, if approved, will take pupils from the four one-room schoolhouses still in Limerick township.

Closed would be the Medinger, Stannett, Fairview and Barlow one-room school buildings.

In addition, the two four-room buildings might be affected, it was learned. They are the Washington and Linfield schools, each with grades one through eight.

Dunlap explained that the influx of "war babies" into the township schools is beginning to crowd the lower grades, and that the overcrowding is expected to continue, spreading into the middle and upper grades.

Not only would the new school benefit the community, he declared, but "it would meet State requirements for consolidation, that is, having fewer and larger school units."

With but $210,000 available, it was pointed out, "nothing fancy" could be built.

Complete architect's plans have not been developed, but the exterior of the proposed building is expected to be brick or stuccoed concrete block.

Hilldale Boy, 2, Called 'Critical' In Polio Attack

A two-year-old Hilldale boy, stricken with infantile paralysis was in "critical" condition in the isolation ward of the Phoenixville hospital last night.

The youngster, Dennis Poorman, son of Mrs. Violet Poorman, is the Pottstown area's eighth polio victim.

Treated for an upper respiratory infection at Memorial hospital two weeks ago, Dennis was discharged as cured. Three days ago, however, he developed a fever of 103 degrees and the following day, paralysis set in in his left lower leg.

He was taken to Memorial hospital Thursday night.

Yesterday morning, Dr. H. K. Marcy Jr., Dr. Alfred Leber, hospital pediatrician, and Dr. James I. Wendell, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis representative in Pottstown, examined the youngster.

After a spinal tap was made, Dr. Wendell recommended that he be sent to the isolation ward of the Phoenixville hospital.

Dennis is the third child from the immediate Pottstown area to contract the disease. Others were Helen Slavek, 7, 1145 Queen street, and Anthony Panfil, 18 months, 129 North Adams street.

Youth Topples Into Creek, Comes Out With Broken Arm

Lamar Bohner, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Bohner, 8 Walnut street, had his left arm broken at the elbow at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon when he tumbled into the Manataway creek from the shore near the High street bridge.

The boy was playing along the stream with a friend, Thomas Ingham, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. William Ingham, 60 Chestnut street, when he lost his balance and fell into the shallow water.

Lamar scrambled out unaided and went over to a service station operated by John D. Gauger.

"He was soaking wet," Gauger reported, "and seemed to be in terrible pain. I called the Good Will ambulance right away and they took him to the hospital."

THE BOY WAS taken to Pottstown hospital by Good Will driver Josiah Polley, and admitted after his arm was set. He suffered no other injuries.

Lamar's younger friend ran to tell Gauger of the accident, but before the service station owner could run out to pull the boy from the stream, he had got out unaided.

In the ambulance ride to the hospital, Polley reported, Lamar's biggest worry was that he would have to miss school.

Grove Vanishes as Pilots Clear Way for Air Show

You couldn't see the forest for the lack of trees up in Stowe yesterday as Pilot club members whittled away at what was left of the grove which, they said, endangered flying at Manatoway airport.

About a dozen more fell yesterday, the second day that sawdust has poured on the Robinson Clay Products company property at the southeast end of the runway.

Myron G. Littlefield Jr., club member, said only about seven of the once lofty grove of 25 or 30 trees remain. These will be cut today.

The timber-topping work is in preparation for an air show the club will sponsor Sept. 26 at the airport on Stowe's Glasgow road.

Dr. Kline Reaches 92, Pauses From Work to Greet Friends

Since the Rev. Dr. J. J. Kline, of 220 Chestnut street, who preached in area Lutheran churches for 60 years, was celebrating his 92nd birthday yesterday, William F. Lamb Sr., a longtime friend, decided to drop around for a congratulatory visit in the afternoon.

No, Lamb soon learned, the pastor emeritus at Swamp and Grace Lutheran churches was not sitting in his parlor, nor upstairs. Dr. Kline was out in the backyard.

The 92-year-old man was not only in the backyard, he was working with a pick to uproot the stubborn stump of a cherry tree that he had chopped down when he was 90.

LAMB, A COMPARATIVE youngster, laughingly took the pick from his hand and finished the job, letting Dr. Kline reminisce of old times, visit with the dozens of friends who dropped around during the day, and read some of the half-a-hundred messages of congratulations that arrived.

A slender man with black still visible in his shock of gray hair and his full moustache, Dr. Kline was willing to follow tradition.

Car Parked in Alley 'Sprouts' License Tags

A sedan parked in the alley between Water and Laurel streets was depicted in a Mercury photograph yesterday as having no license tags.

Still parked in the alley last night, the car had "grown" two tags.

Neighbors reported the parker was the property of a borough councilman who also is a member of the police committee.

Tire Blowout Caused This Crack-Up

The driver of this truck-trailer stepped out of the ruined cab with nothing more than scratches. Harry Eglot, 42, of Philadelphia, was driving west on Route 422 when the right front tire of the truck blew out, taking the vehicle out of control. It plunged into a stone wall, one and one-half miles east of Sanatoga, and snapped an electric utilities pole at the base. The accident took place Thursday afternoon.

Earlville Boy Injured As Tractor Falls on Him

Ronald Richard, 11, of Earlville, was admitted to Pottstown hospital yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock with multiple lacerations and bruises of the upper body after a tractor fell on him.

The boy was riding the tractor with two other youths near his home when it overturned, pinning him beneath it. The others raised the tractor, freeing him, and he was driven to the hospital.

He is a son of Mrs. Mary Miller, Earlville.

Harvest Moon Climaxes Week of Perfect Weather

A smudge of clouds in late afternoon only slightly marred the seventh consecutive day of perfect early fall weather yesterday.

Both-Sides Parking Blamed for Accident On Lincoln Avenue

Parking on both sides of Lincoln avenue near Warren street was blamed for a three-car accident last night at 6 o'clock.

Wade Carter, Jr., of 813 Sheridan street, and Paul Yerger, of 373 Laurel street, told Pottstown police they were driving their cars in opposite directions, and the both-sides parking brought them together.

Carter's car bounced from the left fender of Yerger's into the front of the sedan of Irvin C. Hermer, parked on the north side of the avenue.

The parked car was damaged most severely, with a dented right fender, broken bumper and hubcap damage. The other two had only dented fenders.

Sgt. Daniel J. Linton and Motor Patrolman Earl J. Rhoads investigated.

A MOTOR SCOOTER was damaged slightly at 6:10 o'clock last night when it was grazed by an automobile coming out of Buttonwood alley, between King and High street, onto Hanover street.

Riding the scooter south on Hanover street was James Perzer, 618 Farmington avenue.

He escaped injury when his small vehicle was struck by the slowly-moving car of Dominic D. Ferro, 1068 South street.

PENN VILLAGERS —

She pointed out that if they were forced to leave, she and her husband would have to separate. His work keeps him in Pottstown and the only living quarters available would be with her family in Philadelphia.

ANOTHER FAMILY which might have to break up would be that of Mrs. Edward Kuterbach, 476 Buttonwood street. If worse came to worse, she could take her two children to her parent's home in Chester, but her husband would have to remain here to work.

In her house-hunting experiences, she found one three-room apartment at $90 per month and another ten miles out in the country.

"The rents are too high, and with two children, we can't save enough to make the down payments they demand for homes. Even the GI loans are hard to get," she added.

Like many who would hate to exchange Penn Village for the poorer facilities of Hilldale, Mrs. Kuterbach said she would, if necessary, apply for a Hilldale unit.

MRS. JOHN SWARTZ, 25 Boone court, with four children, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Louis Swartz, 21 Boone court, with one child, looked upon the Hilldale settlement as their only hope if they are forced to move.

With children to keep, they find the high cost of living prevents them from saving. If she could find an apartment, Mrs. Louis Swartz remarked, she would go to work herself to help pay the rent for it.

Few, if any, of the families could manage to make the down payment on a home. Those that might manage it through a loan were afraid to take the step. They feared that a change in the labor situation might find them with a high-priced home on their hands which they were unable to afford.

THE ORDER to remove the higher-income families from Penn Village was looked upon by many as a method of penalizing people for having initiative.

Some residents using their spare time to build up small businesses of their own will find themselves looking for homes because their incomes have increased.

Carl C. Wager, 505 Buttonwood street, was placed in that position. Attempting to build up a trucking business of his own, he faces eviction for his efforts.

Aviv said Moshe Shertok, Israeli foreign minister, had sent telegrams to King Gustaf of Sweden, Countess Bernadotte and U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie which said:

"Deeply shocked by outrageous murder of Count Bernadotte by criminal outlaws who are executed by the entire people of Israel and the Jewish community of Jerusalem. On behalf of the government of Israel I beg to express our feelings of grief and profound sympathy. The government of Israel is adopting the sternest measures to bring the criminals to justice."

Both Lawler and Finnan were elected the past June. Lawler replaces Stephen J. Vagasky as grand night.

Draft Registration Winds Up Today

Volunteer registrars for local Board 110 will hold their last registration in borough hall council chambers today.

Men born before Sept. 19, 1930, will register today, while those born on or after that date will register within five days of their 18th birthday.

Beginning next week, R. Ross Longaker, draft board clerk, will take charge registration in the borough hall second floor office, from 8 a. m. until noon and from 1 to 5 p. m.

Yesterday, 120 men were registered for the draft.

crete floor 30 feet below, landing on his head.

Stewart's brother, Galen C., who is supervisor of draftsmen on the job, accompanied the victim to the hospital in an ambulance.

"The young construction worker had only been on that job three weeks. Previously he had been employed in the machine shop of the Philadelphia Steel company, Norris-town."

A Navy veteran with two years of service, one and a half of them on a destroyer in the Pacific, Stewart was married and the father of two sons.

His wife was the former Miriam Outinger. His sons are Joseph, 6, and Kenneth, 5.

STEWART WAS BORN in Chester Springs and lived there until he was 13 when he and his family moved to Rahms, where his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stewart, still live.

He attended Schwenkville High school for two years before entering the Navy.

The accident victim was married in 1941. When he returned from the Navy, he and his family lived in Rahms for a while and then moved to Spring Mount.

He was a member of St. Luke's Reformed church, Trappe, Kline-Snyder-McCann post, 7155, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Trappe, and the Spring Mount Fire company.

In addition to his parents and brother, he is survived by four sisters, Mrs. Harry Allen, Mrs. Florence Suter and Mrs. William Jones, all of Norris-town, and Ruth Stewart, at home.

31 Norco Seniors Leave Monday on Annual Class Trip

Thirty-one North Coventry High school seniors will leave on their annual class trip to Washington, D. C., at 7 o'clock Monday morning, Paul H. Grim, supervising principal, announced yesterday.

Usually made in the Spring of the year, the three-day trip was advanced by the school board so senior class members could make use of its educational features in their classroom work. Direct reference will be made to the trip in the Problems of Democracy classes.

Grim said the trip would include a tour of Washington with the students visiting the Capitol, the White House, the Smithsonian Institute, the Supreme court, the Washington and Lincoln memorials, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Treasury and the Congressional Library.

The group also will visit Mt. Vernon, Arlington National cemetery, the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, Ft. Myers, the Washington Cathedral, and the Franciscan monastery. On the return trip, they will stop at the U. S. Naval academy, at Annapolis.

MISS JESSIE DELP, senior class advisor, and Alvin S. Alderfer, class advisor and Problems of Democracy instructor, will accompany the students.

Buses taking the group to Washington will leave from the school and will return to the same point at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night.

Taking an active part in the trip will be the newly-elected officers of the senior class. They are Ethel Bean, president, William McCruden, vice president, Janice Care, secretary, and Robert Fries and Hannah Dilliplane, treasurers.

Hardware, Tool Exhibit Attracts Scores in Area

"Open house" at the J. Fegely and son hardware display rooms, 12 South York street, attracted scores of visitors yesterday afternoon and night.

Representative products of numerous concerns were on display, including hand tools, machine tools, lighting equipment, cables and an assortment of home appliances.

Dealers were present to explain and sell their products, while the entire display was photographed and described for trade journals.

Fire Damage Report Awaits Arrival of Insurance Adjustors

Insurance adjustors will make estimates of the damage to home appliances in the J. Fegely and Son warehouse fire Thursday morning, Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer announced yesterday.

Lindauer said he had received no estimates of the damage yesterday but expected to have a report made to him Monday.

The fire which swept the second floor and loft of the former Swift and company storage house brought all three Pottstown fire companies and the West End company of Stowe in answer to a general alarm.

It was caused by sparks from an acetylene torch a workman was using to cut out old refrigeration pipes.

One Empire Hook and Ladder Fire company fireman, Stephen Wisser, Pottstown RD 4, was felled by smoke Thursday afternoon. Still in an oxygen tent at the Memorial hospital, he was reported to be in "better" condition yesterday.

North End Water Main Is Started by Borough

Installation of another North End water main was begun yesterday by borough workers.

Workers began laying a 450-foot line on Willow street from Gay street to the borough line.

The new water pipe will serve a group of homes already constructed and several more planned for the neighborhood.

Minute Men Prepare Home Inspection Poll On Fire Prevention

Members of the fire prevention committee of the Minute Men, meeting yesterday afternoon in the Chamber of Commerce offices, Security Trust building, planned for Fire Prevention Week activities, Oct. 3-9.

The group expects to supply borough schools with "home inspection" blanks. School pupils will take these to their homes for a check on potential fire hazards.

Committee members also will survey Pottstown's stores, industries, hospitals and all business places during the week of Oct. 3, to observe fire prevention steps and to warn against possible sources of fires.

THE COMMITTEE yesterday praised The Mercury's recent editorials that have urged constant observance of fire prevention rules.

Davis C. Knauer, committee chairman, took charge of yesterday's meeting.

The group will convene again at 4 p. m. on Sept. 28.

Zig-Zagging Motorist Fined $100 and Costs

NORRISTOWN, Sept. 17—Elbridge Singleton, of Pearlstone's Place, Collegeville, RD2, who pleaded guilty to a charge of drunken driving before Judge Dannehower today, was ordered to pay a fine of $100 and costs.

He was arrested Sept. 12 by Trooper Frank Clemens, of the Collegeville barracks of the State police, on Route 422 at Limerick.

Clemens testified today that he stopped Singleton when he observed his car zig-zagging on the highway.

SUCH ACCLAIM MUST BE DESERVED

Thank you, Mr. and Mrs. Public, for your enthusiastic acceptance of The Brooksider.

Since the opening of the sample house, less than a week ago, hundreds of people have visited, inspected and exclaimed as to its many merits.

Truly, it was gratifying to know that so many people know and appreciate "sound structural practice." The many comments definitely indicated that quality and good planning are still paramount in the mind of the careful home owner. Of course, price is all-important, too.

All of these factors were fully considered prior to our undertaking the Brooksider project and, with our years of building experience, it was conclusively determined that a really good house, one of which the owner could justifiably be proud, could be built, AND AT A PRICE THAT IS RIGHT!

THAT IS WHY WE UNHESITATINGLY SAY:

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1948

Live virtuously, and you cannot die too soon, nor live too long.—Lady Russell.

No Room For Them

THE blow has fallen!
Sixty-five Penn Village families will be moved out onto the streets. They'll walk those hard streets looking for living quarters in house-scarce Pottstown.

They may win up living in chicken coops or tents, perhaps, like others have lived in Pottstown where borough officials say builders can't erect homes for these poor in heart and poor in pocketbook!

Damocles was lucky. Invited to a sumptuous banquet, Damocles was made uncomfortable when he noticed overhead a sword suspended by a hair.

Damocles was afraid to stir. The banquet was a tantalizing torment to him.

But the hair didn't part. That's where Damocles was lucky.

Penn Villagers weren't so fortunate. The hair that held up the sword of Damocles over their heads was a Congressional stay that forbade the removal of "high-income" families until March 31, 1949. But that provision was removed by a later law.

Now there's nothing for the Montgomery County Housing authority to do but toss those 65 families out into the gutter. It's the law! The same condition prevails everywhere where there's US low-rent housing. The homes were erected for persons of sub-standard incomes.

The hair that held up the Damocles sword over Penn Villagers' head has broken! The tenants are out!

Where'll they go?

There's no room in Hilldale. There're no apartments for families with several children. There're no homes for rent in Pottstown!

So maybe those 65 families will double up or triple up with relatives because Pottstown officials didn't prepare for something they knew was coming. Instead of encouraging builders to erect homes people like Penn Villagers could rent Pottstown borough officials scoffed at their efforts.

"You can't build homes for less than $10,000," Burgess William A. Griffith sneered at one enterprising contractor who was trying to get a start here.

The blow has fallen.

BUT THAT'S NOT THE WORST OF IT! Another sword of Damocles hangs over Pottstown's head.

When the borough of Pottstown allowed the US government to build the Penn Village homes, it agreed to TEAR DOWN AS MANY SLUM HOMES.

That means sometime or other Pottstown MUST TEAR DOWN 117 SUB-STANDARD HOMES.

Must it therefore evict 117 other poor families?

Add those to the 65 families being driven into the streets now and you've almost 200 families for the chicken coop or tent contingent.

IS POTTSTOWN BOROUGH PREPARING FOR THIS EVENTUALITY? Or will the evil foreboding again be dis-

Cinderella Marriages

IT SEEMS to be the fashion in the upper income tax brackets just now for the young men to marry coal miners' daughters.

Last Winter Winthrop Rockefeller, a grandson of old John D., married the daughter of a Pennsylvania miner and last Wednesday Stephana Saja, the daughter of another Pennsylvania miner, married Francis Hitchcock, the New York polo player.

On the strength of such romances, nobody knows how many millions of young women will close their eyes and daydream themselves into a similar Cinderella role.

Such daydreaming obviously is not the best preparation for the career of dishwashing and baby-tending to which most women are destined. But the romances themselves have their good side. They show a democratic absence of caste lines. They show that great wealth is not necessarily a barrier to social mobility.

Not every bathing beauty can become a Rockefeller or a Hitchcock, any more than every bright high school boy can become President.

But the fact that the chance exists helps make democracy real.

It also helps keep it vigorous.

Taxpayer Asks Police Shakeup to Get Efficiency

Borough Crime 'At Its Worst'

To the Editor: Are the taxpayers and citizens of Pottstown receiving their money's worth in police protection? Recent newspaper reports reveal that our local police department is not doing the job for which it is being paid.

The latest reports in the newspapers do not place any feathers in the hats of the local law enforcement agency. On the contrary, they reveal how our police department and its head are asleep in the stationhouse.

Crime here in the borough is at its worst. If the officers on the beats and the men in the patrol cars are not capable or able to perform their duties, they should be weeded out and replaced by others who can do the job.

We all know that the officer on the beat does not give the orders. If the police chief, regardless of his political views, does not possess the ability to utilize his men in the prevention, detection and solution of crimes, and arresting of criminals, he should be good enough to resign, or should be replaced by someone who is capable of handling his job.

He is not indispensable. There are several very capable war veterans on the force who, in my opinion, should and could do a much better job than is now being done, providing they were given the opportunity.

With the combination of the modern equipment that our police department now has at its disposal and a chief who does not mind "getting off the seat of his pants," no crime would go unsolved and a speedier and more efficient law enforcement agency would be the ultimate result.

It is time for improvement. So give them another chance, and if they don't do better a change should be made, soon.

Children Should Be Loved

To the Editor: In answer to Stella ("Happy Days for Mother," Readers Say, Sept. 15), it is a shame that we grown-ups forget too soon that we were once children ourselves or maybe Stella came here just the way she is now.

I don't think much of her as a mother to be glad to get rid of her own children. That is what is wrong with this world today. People like her just don't want to be bothered with anything. They're too busy looking out for themselves and the things they want. They send their children out into the world and let somebody else look out for them.

I cannot imagine any mother calling her own children brats. That is one word I dislike very much. God only knows they were never born that way. So if that is what they are, the fault must lie with the parents.

When my child goes to school it won't be because I want to get rid of him, because of yelling, etc. It's only because I want to see him have a good education so he can become a good citizen.

It is a shame people like Stella are blessed with children when so many other want them and would give them the love and understanding they need so badly today.

Good Word for the 'Brats'

To the Editor: In reply to Stella ("Happy Days for Mother," Readers Say, Sept. 15):

Why don't people like you move out in the sticks where there are no brats, as you call them. I guess Stella forgot she may have been one, too, but today she is one who likes to do nothing but sit in the barrooms guzzling beer. She no doubt has a house full herself and that is why she is calling them brats.

Hangovers—that's no doubt all Stella is suffering from and blames it on the children who are out for a few hours of fun while she would like to sleep.

It wouldn't do for me to be Stella's neighbor, because I'd help those "brats," as she calls them, to make noise. So, Stella, stop suffering. This is a free country.

Praise for Hilldale Vets

To the Editor: The one who sneers the Hilldale homes is the one who is mad and jealous of low rent housing.

They are the ones who prevent low cost housing because they are landlords of big homes. They are after the veterans' money on high rents.

I honor every veteran for living in low rent housing. Save all you can, be proud of your savings and not of somebody's walls.

To the Editor: I am overwhelmed by the array of speakers which Town Hall proposes to bring here this season—John W. Vandercook, Lee Pressman and Walter Reuther.

Just so our deep thinkers aren't "left" out in the cold, I suggest: Sen. Robert Taft, Rep. John Rankin and Col. Robert McCormick.

Am I "right?"

Dixie Revolting Against Encroachment by Labor

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—The Southern revolt against President Truman, which may mean the loss of a majority of historic confederate states to the Democrats, has an industrial as well as a racial inspiration and background.

This industrial aspect is hardly recognized by the general public or by White House aides, who are not noted for their understanding of economic questions.

The Dixie of the 1948 presidential election is a new nation, phoenix and non; it is an independent, self-conscious and ambitious area. It does not intend to remain as a political or economic orphan or underdog, even if it has to assert itself by breaking away from the Democratic Party.

In certain respects its postwar, industrialized economy has a closer relationship with Gov. Earl Warren's up-and-coming West than with Harry S. Truman's Missouri.

DIFFERENTIALS. Numerous corporations from the North and Middle West have migrated southward on the promise that they will not be troubled by labor disputes. Chamber of Commerce boosters have advertised that the majority of workers consist of "native stock," not given to union organization and bossism. During World War II, corporation executives suffered a minimum of disturbances, and they want no White-House-APL-CIO interference with their system.

They intend, if possible, to maintain the slight differentials in industrial wages, taxes and accessibility to natural resources which tend to offset the greater political control that other sections have exercised in the Halls of Congress, and, too often, at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

In view of the milder climate and a slightly lower cost of living in many respects, their recent efforts of union organizers to raise wages to the same levels as those prevailing elsewhere.

Thus it is no accident that a majority of Southern Democrats voted for the Taft-Hartley Act over President Truman's veto. Nor is it without significance that authors of the law permitting the government to seize strike-bound plants in war time or other emergency were Senators Tom Connally of Texas and Representative J. Howard Smith of Virginia. And two of the stoutest champions of government economy and decentralization are Senators Harry F. Byrd, of Virginia, and Walter F. George of Georgia.

REFORMS: The South accepted, or acceded to, economic and racial reforms sponsored by Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt largely because they were advanced in the depth of depression or during a global war. Moreover, they cordially liked and admired F. D. R., and Southern leaders always suspected that he would never press his demands for change to the limit. He knew when and where it was wise to stop.

Had Mr. Truman been a strong, heroic and appealing figure, even the present revolution, although inevitable, might have been deferred.

REBUKE: Dixie aims to regain the partisan and legislative power which it lost under Mr. Roosevelt. It advocated its veto authority over nominations when it succumbed to Roosevelt-Farley appeals for repeal of the two-thirds procedure at national conventions. Its 127 members of Congress, divided between House and Senate, cannot dominate Congressional or executive actions regarding unions, employment and wages.

But if it can administer a sweeping rebuke to the northern Democratic wing by making Mr. Truman the second-worst defeated presidential candidate in history, second only to Alf Landon in 1936, the Lees, Jacksons and Longstreets of today figure that they will have won a strategic and significant battle as at Bull Run, which shocked and paralyzed an overconfident North.

Little Shots About Big Shots

SCREEN STAR Jean Pierre Aumont, who can and does speak several languages fluently, confided to me that the only language he ever thinks in is his native French.

(Master the Gallic tongue before you attempt to read Jean Pierre's mind.)

Turban Bey, whose looks and background automatically nullify the slightest chance of his ever being chosen the Typical All-American Male—and whose Continental gallantry somehow indicates more complex and cosmopolitan tastes—could live on a daily diet of hot dogs and chocolate malted milk.

Bill Robinson, whose dancing feet go on and on like Tennessee's brook, treasures a toy tarantula as his mascot—a not-so-strange choice considering the ancient superstition claiming that the bite of a tarantula would cause a disease called "tarantism," characterized by an uncontrollable desire to dance. (If there's any truth to that theory, Bill must have encountered a real tarantula in his childhood—which would qualify him for the distinction of being the first and only Broadway big-time ever to profit by having had "the bite" put on him.)

COLLECTING limericks is the No. 1 hobby of Maggi Teyte, the opera singer; she hoards hundreds of these light lines in heavy scrapbooks, and a favorite of hers goes this way: There once was a lady named Teyte.

Who dined every night at eight; But I will not relate

What that lady named Teyte And her tete-a-tete ate at eight.

MOVIE ACTOR Hurd Hatfield is indulgent of most feminine fripperies. But high-heeled slippers worn with jeans pajamas or completely matching ensembles are two sights so distasteful to him that anybody trying to argue their merits with him could easily nurture a feud of Hatfield-and-McCoy fierceness.

GLAMOROUS PUBLICIST Dorothy Gulman has an "Oscar" of her very own (and no other press agent can make that statement!)—a massive gold chain featuring an exact likeness of the coveted Academy Award statuette. Dorothy Laura sent it to D. G. as a birthday gift and it is affectionately inscribed "You, Above All, Deserve This—Love, Dottie."

EMIL ALVIN Hartman is the man whose name always pops into my mind when skeptics disparage the theory that love is inclined to render its victim blind. Mr. Hartman, as head of the Fashion Academy, conceals those widely-coveted annual "Hits of America's Best Dressed Women." Having handled this chore for the past 20 years, he definitely qualifies as a top contender for honors as the Male Most Likely to Notice Every Detail of Feminine Attire. However, like his less clothes-conscious brethren, Mr. Hartman can't for the life of him recall what his beautiful auburn-haired wife, Ami, wore the night he proposed to her—or what color or kind of dress she wore at their wedding!

THEY'RE THE KIND who want to take the girls to night clubs—show them the high life. You might call them the penthouse and champagne type of wolf.

MAYBE THE SO-CALLED Hollywood wolf is smart. I doubt it.

A few years ago I worked in Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe in New York City. Except for occasional big Hollywood musicals, there are very few places where you'd be likely to find more beautiful girls, or so many of them.

Around show business in New York you're pretty likely to find wolves of a single type. Invariably they have plenty of only two things—money and time on their hands.

They're the kind who want to take the girls to night clubs—show them the high life. You might call them the penthouse and champagne type of wolf.

I'VE WONDERED on occasion who was the first person to dub a male animal a wolf. It unquestionably was a woman. Only a woman would think of a phrase which would do two things simultaneously—flatter a man immeasurably and keep him at a distance.

Men may dispute it, but I think the average male would rather be considered a very devil with the ladies than a master builder of bridges.

SOUTHERN COMFORT

Hollywood

By VIRGINIA MAYO

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 17.—Every time I hear a Hollywood discussion about wolves, I can't help thinking of a boy I knew in school. When it came to attracting the interested attention of the opposite sex, he was a past master. In fact, this mere child probably could have given some of our sleek gentlemen a good old-fashioned lesson in feminine psychology.

The generally accepted version of the typical Hollywood wolf is the sugar-voiced male who tells innocent and unsuspecting Nell, "You ought to be in pictures," or "You'd look so beautiful in pink," or "We should take a spin on my yacht." Or even, "Why don't you come up and see my etchings some time?"

Are we girls as dumb as all that? Obviously, this schoolboy never could have put any girl in pictures. Most of the time he appeared to have a hard time scraping up enough money to take a girl to a show, or even to buy her an ice cream cone. I doubt whether he even knew what etchings were, but he always seemed to be taking out the prettiest girls in town.

WHETHER BY ACCIDENT or design, this youngster we'll call him Jimmy, had "the perfect line." Periodically you'd hear that "Jimmy thinks Doris is awfully cute, only she isn't his type." That would get all over his school.

The first thing you'd know Doris would be dancing attendance on Jimmy. Or, maybe it would be Mary or Sue or Sally. Jimmy probably couldn't have scared up the price of an orchid to save his soul, but he didn't need orchids.

The lad just seemed hard to get!

MAYBE THE SO-CALLED Hollywood wolf is smart. I doubt it.

JOBS UPON A TIME

Representative Sam Reburn, Democratic congressman from Texas, chairman of the recent Democratic convention in Philadelphia, has been in Congress since 1913. He lost his seat as speaker of the House but retained his seat after the Republican gains in 1946. Before Reburn went to Washington he was a farmer-lawyer. He graduated from East Texas college, which he entered with only $25 and his father's blessing. Reburn won his law degree at the University of Texas, and hung out his shingle at Bonham, Texas. A Congressman Reburn is a bachelor.

Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, was a school teacher in Ohio before going to college at Ohio Wesleyan and to law school at the University of Michigan. Rickey is responsible for many of the innovations in baseball. He devised a farm system which enables the major league clubs to develop their own players on minor league teams in 1919. His nickname is The Brain.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

He Was Just a Dog... Substitutes for Cops...

JUST DOG — This dog was utterly undistinguished except for one thing. He managed to live for sixteen years, which made him better than a centenarian in the canine world.

The ancestry of this dog was uncertain and his appearance was such that it moved many to laughter. When he wagged his tail he wagged his whole rear with it and that made them laugh the harder.

This dog knew no tricks and so far as we observed had not the wit to learn any. If other dogs invaded his property, he asked them to leave and if they did not he fought them. If he was dismissed from the domain of another dog, he left, according to code.

He chased woodchucks, this dog, and sometimes he caught them; at any rate he kept them out of the garden. He caught rats sometimes. He followed two little boys to their games and in their wanderings and when they no longer lived at home he seemed to miss them.

Like thousands of other dogs everywhere, he minded his own business and did the best that he could and seemed to find happiness in the doing of it.

As we said at the beginning, he was without glamour or distinction.

SATURDAY SNICKER — The superintendent of an apartment building notorious for having thin walls was calling on his tenants for the rent one day when he came upon Mrs. Murphy huddled against her living room wall listening intently.

She held up a warning finger to him. "Shhhh," she said, "listen!"

The superintendent stood quietly and listened. Finally he said, "I can't hear a thing."

"That's it," Mrs. Murphy said in a chagrined voice. "It's been like that all day."

SAVOR — Councilman Clinton H. Miller, of the Tenth ward, watched traffic pile up at High and Hanover streets Thursday morning during the J. Pegely warehouse fire. Seeing no police around, he strode to the middle of the intersection and flapped his arms quite commendably to keep things moving until regular cops arrived. Which poses the question: Do police have a master plan for just such emergencies? Experts come through with the zany report that human beings talk more on Fridays than any other days of the week. Although we've never counted it, they say humans say "yes" twice as much as they say "no."

The Rev. A. Burtis Hallock Jr. should be happy. The Presbyterian parsonage is being painted—first time in eight years.

LODGE TROUBLE — A Pottstown lodge is irked because members are alleged to have loaned out their keys to non-members. Another fraternity is seeking quarters where it can install a barroom. Pottstown chain grocery stores have resumed practice of delivering orders. They cut it out during the war. Electrical appliance repairman said the housewife told him her electric refrigerator wouldn't freeze ice cubes. She suggested maybe the light bulb was throwing too much heat! Pottstown dealer says he is going to charge six cents for Reading newspaper starting Monday.

THE WORRY CLINIC
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
SARAH G., 29, has been married for six years.

"Dr. Crane, I simply dread leaving my home anymore," she began our interview. "The thought of going only a block away from the house literally terrifies me."

"It makes my heart pound so I can actually feel the thumping, and I am afraid at any minute it will burst or stop beating altogether."

"At night, I lie awake for hours making sure that I shall not choke, for, I feel as if I cannot get my breath. Then I worry about insanity, too."

"This all started when I visited the undertaking parlors at the funeral of my husband's mother. Now I wish I hadn't gone there at all, for that is when my trouble all began."

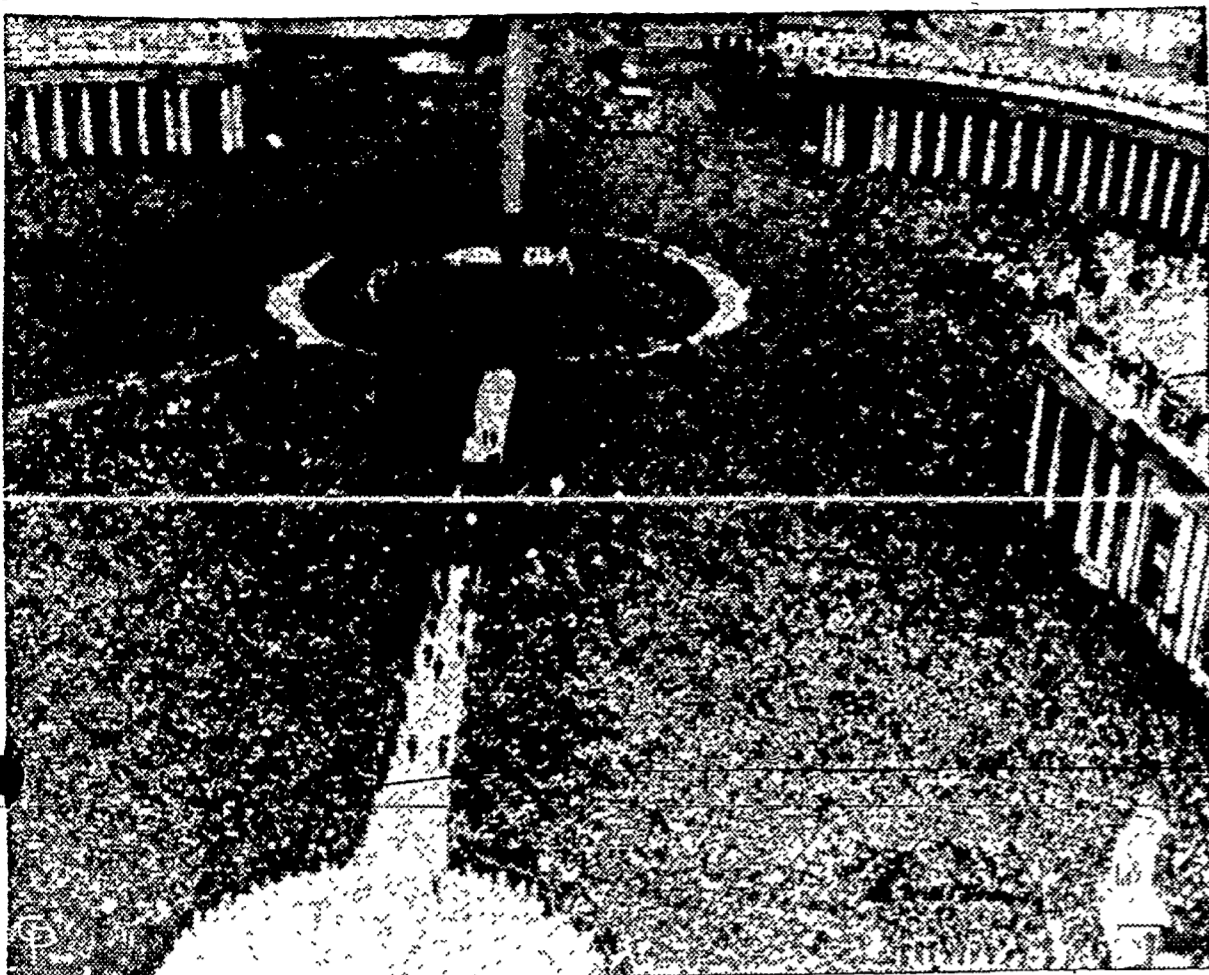

"She was a good soul, though, and I felt that I ought to attend the funeral service. Dr. Crane, I'm afraid I am going to die, although my family doctor says there is nothing wrong with my heart or my lungs."

AND SARAH'S doctor was quite right. Her trouble is a heart neurosis. You will observe that the three things mentioned in her story to me are all dramatic events; choking, heart attack and insanity.

These are the conventional punishments expected when we think we have committed a sin against God.

She feels that she has been guilty of some unforgivable sin, so she thinks it is only a matter of time till she must pay the price.

Miss Arlene Herbst And Clyde Brumbach To Wed Here Today

The marriage of Miss Arlene Herbst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leverne Herbst, New Berlinville, to Clyde Brumbach, son of Ellwood Brumbach, Earlville, will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock, in St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church. The Rev. David F. Longacre, pastor, will officiate at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Herbst is a graduate of the Boyertown High school, class of 1945, and is now employed at the Farmers National Bank and Trust company.

Brumbach, a graduate of the Boyertown High school, class of 1943, is at present attending Temple university. He spent more than two years in the Navy.

A RECEPTION will be held for the immediate families following the ceremony at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Herbst, New Berlinville.

The couple will reside at the home of the bride's parents in New Berlinville, until the groom completes his course of study at Temple university. A miscellaneous shower was tendered Miss Herbst recently at the newly built home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glaser, Bally.

The room was decorated with balloons, each of which contained a capsule telling where a gift was hidden. A beautiful umbrella adorned a table in the shades of the bride's dress.

REPRESENTATIONS were served by the hostess, Winifred Glaser, and her two co-hostesses, Anna and Helen Merkel.

Those attending the shower were: Mrs. Erma Grim, Eleanor Grim, Esther Straube, Mrs. Peter Herbst, Mrs. Horace Fegley, Mrs. Warren Becker, Mrs. Oscar Beckles, Mrs. Charles Dries, Mrs. Paul Brumbach, Mrs. Robert Trate, Mrs. William Becker, Mrs. Morris Bryan Jr., Mrs. Morris Bryan Sr., Miriam Frain, Jean Fritz, Mary Grofe, Beulah Jones, Mrs. George Kass, Mrs. Paul LaBe, Arlene Moyer, Dorothy Muthard, Jeanette Muthard, Mrs. Ralph Schollenberger, Mrs. Elsie Tyson, Mrs. Dorothy Wood, Mrs. Jesse Yeager, Mr. and Mrs. Leverne Herbst, Mrs. Mary Livingood, and Miss Rachael Trout.

District Chiefs Assist Yerger Legion Post At Installation Rites

The election and installation of officers was held Thursday night at the regular meeting of the Charles B. Yerger Post 471 American Legion.

The following were elected and installed: Henry Zimmers, commander; Elwood Romig Jr., vice-commander; Daniel Zuber, finance officer; Daniel Zuber, service officer; Irvin Lefevre, adjutant; Rev. David Longacre, chaplain; Harry Mauger, substitute chaplain; Ralph C. Horn, historian; Samuel Surgeon-at-arms; Jerome Hietrick, Paul Gilbert and Merrill McKinstry, trustees.

Ralph C. Horn retired as adjutant of the post after serving in the position 11 years.

District Commander Elmer Miller, commander of the 14th District from Strausstown, and Deputy Commander Thomas Maloney of Birdsboro installed the officers. Deputy Commander Charles Fink of Hamburg was present as a guest.

Applications for membership were received from Royden C. Hartman, Paul L. Hilborn, Kenneth M. Romig, John W. Snyder and James Eugene Petrowicz.

The district commander spoke on membership and initiation of members. He urged all posts to form an initiation drill team.

The next Berks County Inter-Post association meeting will be held in Boyertown at the Keystone Fire house September 27, at which time Harry E. Mauger, immediate past commander of the Boyertown Post will be installed as commander of the Berks County Inter-Post association.

Golden Wedding Day Marked by Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Randolph A. Henry, New Berlinville, observed their 50th wedding anniversary on Friday, Sept. 10. They were married in 1898, by the Rev. Joseph E. Freeman, of the Good Shepherd Reformed Church, Boyertown.

The Henrys are the parents of four children: Bessie, wife of Frank Renninger, Schwenksville; Mae, living at home; Isaac, New Berlinville, and Harry, Boyertown, RD 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry were the guests of honor at a dinner arranged for them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Renninger, Schwenksville. Those attending the event included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Henry and children, Laverne, David and Lillian, Boyertown, RD 1; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Henry and son, Owen, New Berlinville; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Renninger and children, Louise and Franklin, Schwenksville, and Mae Henry, a teacher in the Washington School, Boyertown.

They have seven grandchildren. One of these, Lee Henry, could not attend because he entered Bucknell university the past September 9th.

Mr. Henry was formerly associated with his brother-in-law, the late Thomas Houck, in the farm implement business, now conducted by Erb and Henry. For many years Mr. Henry served as a director of the Farmers National Bank and Trust company of Boyertown, of which his brother-in-law was a former president. He is now living retired.

Tortured Farm Wife Sees Husband Jailed

DADEVILLE, Ala., Sept. 17 (AP)—A slight, young farm wife told today of two years of torture and misery, during which she was beaten, branded and often chained to a bed.

She is Mrs. Blanch Hamby, 21. Her husband, Lester Hamby, 38, is in jail charged with assault with intent to murder, and assault and battery.

State investigator Ben Allen and deputies Horace Akin and Charles Trussell questioned Mrs. Hamby. Allen gave this version of her story:

W. H. Gregg, owner of the farm where Mrs. Hamby worked as a farm hand, found what he thought was her body in a clump of weeds. When he returned, the "body" was gone.

A five-day search for the missing woman followed. She was found at the home of her father, in La Grange, Ga.

Brought back to Dadeville, she told officers she had been frequently beaten and chained to a bed since her marriage to Hamby two years ago.

She showed officers a scar on her breast, shaped like the letter L. Her husband branded her, she said.

Mrs. Hamby also said she had been forced to dig a hole in the

Princess Elizabeth Heir Expected in November

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The British press association said today Princess Elizabeth expects to have her baby about the middle of November.

The baby will be the first born of the princess, who is heir to the throne, and Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, as well as the first grandchild of King George VI and Queen Elizabeth.

Freedom Train Visitor Missing After Class Tour

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17 (AP)—Donald P. Brozack, ten-year-old student at Irwin Catholic school, boarded a special bus with his classmates to visit the Freedom train yesterday, but when the sisters collected the children for the return trip following their tour, the boy was missing.

The boy's father, Peter Brozack, was notified. He made a search last night of bus and train stations, hotels and restaurants without success.

There is some chance that the boy might have tried to visit his mother, the ex-Mrs. Brozack, in Columbus, Ohio.

6 Pastors to Engage In Homecoming Rites At Niantic Church

Three homecoming services will be held tomorrow in Christ Union church, Niantic.

Besides the church's regular pastors, the Rev. Wilmer C. Mantz, Reformed, and the Rev. George B. Pifer, Lutheran, four other pastors will officiate in the ceremonies.

The Rev. Mantz will preach at the first service at 10:15 a. m. The Reformed Junior and Senior choirs will sing.

AT THE AFTERNOON rites at 2:30 o'clock, the Revs. Paul J. Henry, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, Royersford, and Harper L. Schneek, pastor of Good Shepherd Reformed church, Boyertown, will be the speakers.

Music will be provided by Good Shepherd's Senior choir under the direction of May W. Fisher, organist.

The union church's Luther Senior and Junior choirs will sing at the evening service at 7:30 o'clock, at which the Revs. Mark G. Wagner, pastor of St. Mark's Reformed church, Cresona, and Wesley E. Wenner, pastor of Jordan-Lehigh Lutheran church, Trexlerstown, will preach.

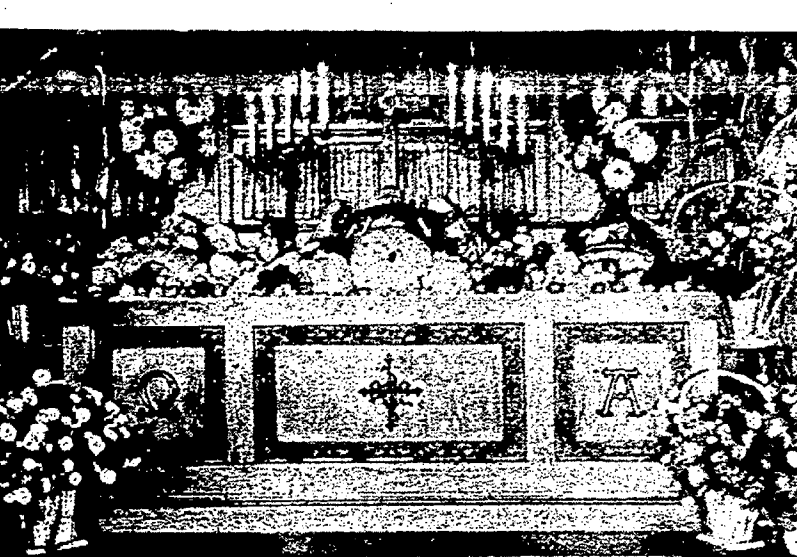

Meals will be served in the social hall of the church.

Altar Bedecked by Harvest Bounty

Traditional Harvest Home festivals will be held in five local churches tomorrow, with altars decorated like this one in Trinity Reformed church. Members of the churches have been asked to bring specimens of fruits, vegetables, grains and flowers, to symbolize the Autumn harvests and to remind church-goers of the endless cycle of reproduction and growth.

Grace Lutheran Church To Mark Youth Sunday

Youth Sunday of the United Lutheran church will be observed tomorrow in Grace Lutheran church, when the morning service will be conducted by the Luther league of the church.

The sermon, "In Quest of the Best," will be delivered by Morris Houck Jr., a student at Muhlenberg college, Allentown.

Other members of the league who will participate are: Lucille Jackson, Arlene Houck, Nancy Moyer, Arlene Mensch, Joan Mayer, William Wilde, William Ketner and Jane Moyer.

New St. Aloysius Rector To Meet Parish Sunday

Tomorrow morning's 5:45 mass in St. Aloysius Catholic church will be said by the Rev. William N. Begley, newly-appointed rector.

The Rev. Begley also will present himself to his parishioners at all other masses tomorrow, he declared yesterday.

He has planned on special ceremonies for meeting members of his congregation.

Harvest Home Services to Be Celebrated In 5 Pottstown, Stowe Churches Tomorrow

Five churches in Pottstown and Stowe tomorrow will conduct harvest home services, an annual rite that has been a tradition since Old Testament days when it was known as the Feast of the Tabernacles.

At Trinity Reformed church, more than 100 young members of the church have been asked to bring one specimen of fruit or vegetable apiece and lay it on the altar.

Altar display will be arranged by Wayne Leister Jr., Robert Gingrich, Douglas Kurtz, Alvin Hinkel, Thomas Rutter, Jeanne Moore, Dorothy Fisher and Elizabeth Ann Miller.

After the service, which starts at 10:45 a. m., the fresh edibles will be taken to Pottstown hospital and canned goods will go to Bethany Orphans' home, Womelsdorf.

The altar of Emmanuel Lutheran church also will be decorated with fruit and vegetables. The service, starting at 10:45 a. m., will be held in the Sunday school rooms since the church auditorium is being renovated.

Committee for altar decoration includes Joseph H. Burdan, Raymond Schumacher, Ralph Kochel and William A. Shaner.

Harvest home services also will

Church to Honor School Leaders

Brownback's Evangelical and Reformed church, Brownback's Corner, will surprise three teachers and two superintendents of the Sunday school at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning when they are honored by the congregation for their work.

The Rev. Lloyd J. Sandt, pastor, said the idea also would be recognized because of the perfect attendance of their classes.

A special musical program will be presented by Miss Lillian Orr, of Lancaster.

Miss Orr will perform on the Swiss cow bells, double octave chimes, tubular harp and other instruments.

There were 31,000 fires in the U. S. in a single year from defective or over-heated chimneys and flues.

Revival Services Continue

Revival Services at the HOLINESS CHRISTIAN CHURCH, Oak and Evans Streets, which began Sunday, September 12, are continuing each night this week and next. The Rev. Thomas E. Frantz, Sunbury, Pa., is the speaker in each service. He also plays the accordion and sings several special selections in song each night at 7:45 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Frantz has just entered the active evangelistic work, having been a pastor for several years at Pillow, Penna. Although yet a very young man, his ministry is a blessing to all that attend the meetings.

Have You Rest In God?

"He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty."
(The Bible, Psalm 91:1)

John Howard Payne was a wanderer on the earth, and knew by experience the hopelessness and emptiness that accompany homesickness. Palaces and pleasures are pitifully poor and insufficient substitutes for home. Happy is that heart that has more than a house, that has a home, sweet home. No place is like it!

The Psalmist, unlike the American playwright, expresses not the longing for a home, but the complete satisfaction of having one. He had found God to be his dwelling place. There is rich meaning in the word "dwell," to settle down to stay, and in "Abide," to lodge for the night. He who has found God as the true home of the soul is always at home, wherever he may be.

How can we find God to be our home? The Scriptures have the answer: "Let the wicked forsake his way and the unrighteous man his thoughts, and let him return unto the Lord; and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon" (Isaiah 55:7). Because of sin we are away from home, "having no hope and without God; but now, in Christ Jesus, ye who sometimes were far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ... therefore ye are no more strangers... but of the household of God" (Eph. 2:12, 13, 19). Then we say of the Lord, "He is my refuge and my fortress, my God, in him will I trust." (Psalm 91:2).

When the wind rises, the clouds darken, the lightning flashes and the fury of the storm breaks, how wonderful to be at home! There we are safe and secure, and heart can sing though storm may rage without. Because he was at home in God, the Psalmist could be free from fear of all danger.

To return to John Howard Payne, we note that palaces and pleasure can never satisfy the homesick soul; nor can anything but God satisfy our soul's deepest need. Augustine said truly, "We are restless until we rest in Thee." What are we profited, should we gain the whole world and lose our own soul? If we could manage to live without the Saviour, how could we face the gloom of the valley and the length of eternity without Him? Homeless, lost forever!

To have God is to be strong, steady, steadfast, without fear; for there is refuge in "the secret place of the Most High." To have God is to have all, to be always at home—in prosperity or poverty, song or sorrow, strength or sickness, time or eternity.

MONEY in the BANK

This lad has "money in the bank" and is proud of his financial independence. He delivers newspapers and does other odd jobs to turn a few extra pennies.

He acquired two useful habits in his early childhood—work and thrift. Through these he is able to pay his own way, have his own spending money, and put something aside each week as savings.

Boys like him are not very apt to be found in trouble. They do not spend their spare time in idleness and among the wrong kind of associates, but divide it between recreation and useful work.

Three elements are essential in any logical solution of our juvenile delinquency problem—religious training, healthy recreation, and useful employment. Give a child these and he will steer a safe course.

The most important of these is religion—faith in God and humble obedience to the teachings of His Holy Word.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH.

The Church is the greatest factor in our world for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunshine Class Plans

To Hold Hallowe'en Party

Plans were made for a Hallowe'en party by members of the Sunshine class of East Nantmeal Baptist church, when they met at the home of Mrs. Wayne Millard, Loag's corner, Thursday night.

The party will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Lesley Phillips, East Nantmeal with Mrs. Helen Eyrich and Mrs. Margaret Potts in charge. Plans were also made for the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Walter Fries, Oct. 14.

During the business session, at which Mrs. Miriam Pitman, president, presided, two missionary correspondents to the class were accepted, one from South India and one from the Philippine Islands. Members voted to contribute five dollars to their adopted Eskimo child.

A Biblical quiz was conducted by Mrs. Phillips with the first award going to Mrs. Clayton Bates, the teacher. Later refreshments were served.

Margaret Anne Hill And Joseph Sharp United in Marriage

St. Matthews Lutheran church, near Chester Springs, was the scene of a beautiful Fall wedding recently when Miss Margaret Anne Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott Hill of Eagle Farms Hunt, West Chester, became the bride of Mr. Joseph Walter Sharp, Pottstown, RD 3, with the Rev. Ralph Casner officiating.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of ivory satin with square neckline and long sleeves coming to a point over the hand. The bodice was fitted with full circular skirt with hoops designed with a bustle effect ending in a long train.

Her chapel length veil of Brussels net was held in place with a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a small white Bible covered with gardenias and a shower of white rose buds. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Maaron of honor was Mrs. Kenard Porter, West Chester, sister of the bride, who chose a gown of fuchsia taffeta made with off the shoulder effect neckline and full hoop skirt. She wore a matching head dress and carried a Colonial bouquet of Talisman roses with matching streamers.

Miss Cora Sharp, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Ruth Pollock and Miss Betsy Jones acted as bridesmaids in gowns of apple green taffeta designed along the same lines as the matron of honor's gown. Each wore matching head dress and carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow roses with yellow streamers.

The junior bridesmaid was Miss Shirley Ann Hill, who was attired in a gown of gold taffeta of the same design as the other attendants.

MR. JOHN W. SHARP attended his brother's wedding while the bride's brother, William H. Hill, Harvey Shungie and Harold Miller.

The mother of the bride chose a gown of Fall green crepe with black accessories and a corsage of white gardenias. Mrs. Sharp selected a gown of taupe crepe with black accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

For the occasion the church was decorated with ferns, palms and baskets of Fall flowers while white asters were in the altar vases, surrounded by lighted candles.

Mrs. Andrew Gustup was at the console of the organ for the recital which preceded the ceremony. Vocal solos were presented by Miss Anna Funderisen.

Following the wedding a reception for the immediate families and friends was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Porter, after which the couple left for a honeymoon in the Poconos. Upon their return they will be at home with the bride's parents.

Mrs. Sharp is a graduate of Spring City High school, and Goldy's college, Wilmington, while the bridegroom was graduated from Downingtown High school and is employed with the Farm Bureau association.

The Japanese Priest Said: "DOMINUS VOBISCUM"

It was early Sunday morning in Tokyo. A cosmopolitan congregation had assembled in the Catholic church for the first Mass of the day. Along with the Japanese present, there were English, French and Portuguese sailors, the family of a Belgian diplomat, Filipino business men and a sprinkling of U. S. Military Police.

The Japanese priest was compelled to start the service without an assistant to answer the prayers. He had hardly begun the Mass, when a burly GI rose from his seat, walked to the altar and took the place of the absent server.

"At first," he said afterwards, "I felt a little strange serving a Jap priest in a Jap church. But after he turned around and said in Latin: 'Dominus vobiscum!'... I felt just the way I did when I served Father O'Malley in our church back home."

"Dominus vobiscum!"... "The Lord be with you!"

How familiar and homelike those Latin words sounded... to the English, the French, the Portuguese, Belgians and Filipinos... for they had heard them Sunday after Sunday in their own church at home.

Despite their language differences, each could follow the prayers of the Mass... and the actions of the priest. For each had a double-column prayer book... one column in Latin, one in his native language.

Many services of divine worship in the Catholic Church are conducted in the native language of the people. But the Mass... the official and world-wide act of Catholic worship... is generally conducted in Latin because this dead language never changes and is most appropriate to express the fundamentally unchanging worship instituted by Christ at the Last Supper.

Perhaps you have heard Catholics speak of the Mass... or have seen them thronging to Mass on Sunday and other days. If you would like to know more about the Mass... and why the Mass attracts millions of Catholics to church regularly... we will be happy to send you a free pamphlet explaining the Mass and reasons behind it in a clear-cut manner. Write today... ask for Pamphlet No. 6-N.

Mr. Lloyd Branning Installed as Head of South Coventry PTA

Mr. Lloyd Branning was installed as president of the South Coventry Parent Teacher association at the first Fall meeting Thursday night in the school building. Installation was made by Mrs. Florence Manthorne, vice president of the Chester county PTA.

Other officers installed included: Mr. Charles Miller, vice president; Mrs. Harry Detweiler, secretary; Mrs. Wallace Ed, treasurer, and Mrs. Evelyn Kirby, corresponding secretary. With the exception of Mrs. Kirby, all are serving new terms this year.

Prior to the installation of new officers, Mr. G. Bryce Manthorne, retiring president conducted the meeting at which time reports were given by the retiring secretary, Mrs. Peg McAfee and treasurer, Mrs. Belva Kulp.

SCRIPTURES were read by Mrs. Gertrude Weidman, followed by group singing. After the installation of officers, Mr. Manthorne sang, "Bless This House," as a farewell number to the PTA members.

At the session under the new president, members decided to serve refreshments at each meeting with Mrs. Wallace Ed appointed chairman of the refreshment committee. She will pick three mothers each month to assist her in serving.

Mr. Elwood Potts was appointed chairman of the nursery committee to procure help in taking care of the tiny tots while their parents are attending the PTA meetings.

Mr. Raymond Prizer, chairman of the purchasing committee, was advised to meet with the school board members in an effort to procure a shower in the building for the use of the children.

Miss Irene Boyer Re-Elected Head Of King's Daughters

Miss M. Irene Boyer was again nominated and elected president of the King's Daughters at the opening meeting of the Fall season Thursday night at 226 Beech street.

Other officers who were selected by the nominating committee, Mrs. Russell German, chairman, and again re-elected were: Mrs. George Strubhar, vice president; Mrs. Harry Burdian, second vice president; Mrs. William Stichter, third vice president; Mrs. William Shaner, recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Schlegel, treasurer and Mrs. Wehdall Istenes, corresponding secretary.

Announcement was made of the county convention of the King's Daughters in Ambler, Oct. 6, which will be attended by Mrs. Schlegel, Mrs. William Bertolet, Mrs. Istenes, Mrs. Russell German, Mrs. Joan Albing, Mrs. William Shaner, Mrs. Warren Bealer, Mrs. William Stichter, Mrs. George Strubhar.

LETTERS were received from the president and the vice president of the national order of King's Daughters telling the group that the news story in "The Pottstown Mercury" on the 60th anniversary would be reproduced in the national magazine of the group.

Plans were made for the organization of a new Junior circle to be formed in October with Mrs. Shaner, Mrs. Istenes and Miss Pauline Sherman in charge. The group will meet at the Assemblies of God Tabernacle.

Mrs. Warren Endy was appointed chairman of the sympathy committee. Miss Margaret Istenes presented a piano solo, while Mrs. Strubhar read a selection to the group, and also conducted the devotional. Miss Minnie McAfee accompanied the group singing at the piano.

REPORTS FROM the Holiday house committee included the information that three from Pottstown were guests at the house the past summer for a 12-day vacation, with one of the Pottstonians gaining six pounds during her stay there.

The group contributed $50 to the house as well as many donations given the past July during Donation Day. Harvest home exercises will be held in October at the King's Daughters home for the aged with the local group sending a gift.

A period of quiet was observed in memory of Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, a member of the circle.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed with refreshments served by Miss Boyer and Mrs. E. Conrad Miller.

Detailed Dress

The fashions of elegance that mark the Fall sartorial parade call for more trimming than has been seen on the style horizon for some time. Beading and sequins, braid, fringe and such are all at home on new frocks, coats, suits and even furs. Here is a simple dress of gray wool that is emphasized with horizontal bands of tiny steel nail-heads.

Upper Frederick PTA To Open Season Tuesday

On Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock, members of the Upper Frederick PTA will resume monthly sessions in Church school. A color movie, "Pennsylvania," will be shown.

BEATRICE FAIRFAX'S

Advice to the Lovelorn

Now Married, He Should Stick by Her

SOME time ago a young man wrote me the following story:

He said that his first romance went awry and he later married another girl, believing himself seriously in love with her. After they had been married for a few months he came to the conclusion that he had never stopped loving the first girl, and he discovered also, through what means he did not say, that she was still in love with him.

What he was writing me about was to know what I thought his obligation was—to stay with the girl he married, even though from his standpoint, it was all a mistake, or to find a way to end his marriage, even though he had no cause whatever for complaint with it, and then marry the other girl.

My advice to this young man that he should not be in too much of a hurry to terminate his marriage but should give it a fair and reasonable trial before making any such decision. "It" seemed to me that his first duty was to the girl he had married with good faith on both sides, and that he owed his first loyalty to her.

I have since had a letter from a woman who says she feels called upon to "protest" against the advice I gave this young man.

"IN EVERYTHING we humans do in life we make mistakes," she writes. "Therefore, isn't it logical to assume that we may also make a mistake in the choice of a marriage partner? When we discover our mistake, we should rectify it immediately if possible.

"Just saying so-called marriage vows doesn't insure anyone from making a mistake. This young man did what he did because he was accepting second best. Now that he knows he can have the only one he ever really loved, naturally his only thought is to be with her. Try as he will to make a go of his marriage, he will always have in his heart the knowledge of his real love that is returned by the one he loves.

"No one can command himself to love another. Oh, yes, they could probably adjust, live together without fighting, etc., but love each other truly, trust each other, that's another story."

WHERE I THINK this correspondent makes her greatest mistake is in failing to remember, or at least failing to take account of the fact, that this young man entered into a "second best" marriage not only of his own free will but having, of course, let his wife believe that it was a "first choice" marriage. If he had any idea that he was still in love with the other girl, he should have been honest with the girl he asked to be his wife. Since he did not tell her anything about his earlier romance, one can only assume that he intended her to believe she was actually the girl of his heart.

That being so, it would, to my way of thinking, be an exceedingly dishonorable and unfair thing suddenly to confront his wife, after a few months of marriage with the news that some one else has, and always has had, first call on his affections.

My correspondent is quite right when she says that we all make mistakes. But the right way to remedy a mistake is not always to do the thing that we would prefer

At Windsor Baptist church recently, the Rev. Floyd Van Valkenburg began a series of sermons on the Apostle Peter, the first entitled, "And They Brought Him to Jesus." Holy communion was served following the service. The Sunday school was well attended.

Mrs. Scott Welsh, of Coatesville, has returned home after a week's visit with Mrs. Florence Sharp at her residence in Byers. While here she called on her niece, Mrs. Norman Frank Jr., at their farm home near Byers. She also attended the Sharp-Hill wedding at St. Matthews Evangelist church, Chester Springs. The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kennard Porter at Milltown.

Mrs. Havard Lewis spent several days at Ocean Grove, N. J., attending many religious meetings at the Methodist auditorium. She reported that one Sunday, 10,000 people crowded into the auditorium, while 186 ushers assembled and marched to the altar to receive the baskets for the collection. Mrs. Lewis makes a yearly pilgrimage to Ocean Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Connors, and children, Donnie and Buddy, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Eastwood, all of Norristown, were holiday callers of Thomas Eastwood, at his residence in Byers.

Miss Helen Hoffman, who has been spending the Summer at Spring Knoll farm near Eagle, spent several days at Atlantic City, N. J., then returned to Palmyra, N. J., where she lives in the Winter. She is a teacher at the Riverside public school.

Miss Nancy Kessler, of Frazer, was a recent guest of her friend,

Emily Stanford, at her home at Windsor farm. Another guest was Miss Dorothea Rice, of Glen Lock.

Mr. and Mrs. William MacCleary of Boothsomer, Delaware county; Mrs. Emma MacCleary of Chadds Ford, and Mrs. William Gaynor of Boothsomer, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. McCordell at their home in Byers recently. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McCordell and daughter, Virginia Hope, also called on the McCordells.

Ronald Essick, who has been spending a few days with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Essick, near Eagle, returned home recently. Mr. and Mrs. J. Morris Dewees, Byers, were evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Fondrose Thompson of Kimberton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Dewees and son, Skippy, spent an evening with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wheatley and daughter.

H. Raymond McBridge was a business caller in Philadelphia recently. The cheetah of India is credited with being the swiftest four-footed animal.

Sgt. Joseph Weinert Assumes Command Of Collegeville Post

Sgt. Joseph J. Weinert, Royersford native and veteran member of the State police, has assumed the post of top officer at Collegeville sub-station.

Sgt. Weinert succeeded Sgt. Harold B. Piersol, formerly of Phoenixville, who recently retired after 24 years of service.

Before his transfer to the command of the Collegeville headquarters, Sgt. Weinert had been stationed for five years at Belmont barracks, Philadelphia.

Educated in Royersford schools, Weinert entered the State police training school at Hershey May 1, 1924. He served his first commission as a private at Pittsburgh barracks. Since then he has served at Green Tree, Chester county; Nicholson, near Scranton, Bethlehem, and Milton, near Lewistown.

HE WAS TRANSFERRED to Collegeville barracks in 1928, then situated on the old Gravel pike, and served as a sergeant until his transfer to Chester county in 1940. He also served for three years as commander of the Media sub-station, Delaware county, after which he was transferred to Belmont.

Before entering the State police, Sgt. Weinert was employed as a glass blower at the Diamond Glass Works, Royersford.

State Police Investigate Service Station Robbery

State police are investigating a robbery at a service station owned by Joseph Bean, located at Schuylkill road and Pikeland avenue, on the outskirts of Spring City on Route 62.

According to Trooper John J. Coll, Devon sub-station, the garage was entered Thursday, and tires, seat covers and some merchandise were stolen.

Berlin Airlift Carries Record Amount of Coal

BERLIN, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Americans "bombed" Berlin with coal today.

Lt. Gen. Curtis Lemay, commander of the American Air Force in Europe, directed every plane in the airlift to carry coal and promised that 4000 to 5000 tons of the fuel would be dumped in the city in the 24 hours ending at noon tomorrow.

The concentration on delivery of coal was ordered as a demonstration on the anniversary of the United States Air Force.

The one-day haul will be distributed at once to all families in Western Berlin with two or more small children.

"AIR GROUND CREWS and everyone else connected with the Berlin airlift will celebrate the day by making a maximum effort to carry a record number of tons," said Lemay.

In a prepared broadcast, which he will deliver tomorrow, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, commander-in-chief in Europe, declared "the spiritual significance of an airlift which provides the daily bread of more than two and a half million people demonstrates our will for peace is profound."

He said it had won "the admiration of all the people of the world who resent the threat of starvation being used as a political weapon."

The state's Moslem ruler, reportedly the richest man in the world, ordered a cease-fire effective at 5 p. m. (7:30 a. m. Pottstown time), after 109 hours of fighting. Indian troops, pressing in from all sides, had approached to within less than 50 miles from his capital.

He was the last of 562 princes to give in to Hindu India or Moslem Pakistan, the two dominions created by the partitioning of old British India a year ago.

The 62-year-old Nizam, Gen. Sir Mir Osman Ali Khan, accepted the resignation of his government and agreed to the demands put forward by New Delhi when Indian troops swept over the borders of the hemmed-in state at 4 a. m. Monday.

BESIDES ORDERING the cease-fire, he outlawed the Razakars, fanatical band of Moslem volunteers, and agreed to stationing of Indian troops in Hyderabad.

He also ordered his delegation to the United Nations in Paris to withdraw the case against India as "it wants to begin a new chapter of friendship with India." The Security Council had agreed only yesterday to take up the case on Monday.

The Indian government awaited official transcripts of broadcasts by the Nizam and his premier, Mir Laik Ali, before accepting the cease-fire. Madras dispatches said the Nizam's action was considered a full surrender. All fighting was believed to have halted.

(In Karachi, Pakistan, Hyderabad circles said the Razakar organization "had been disbanded and its leader, Qasim Rizvi, was expected to reach Karachi soon.")

The Nizam advised New Delhi that he would form a new government tomorrow. Political observers here said the new regime would have to be approved by the Indian government.

It was considered possible that Prime Minister Nehru would demand that the Nizam personally come to New Delhi for negotiations.

Longshoremen Claim Pact With Army Signed

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17 (AP)—Harry Bridges' CIO longshore union said today the loading of strike-iddled Army cargo with union men would begin tomorrow morning under a contract between the Army and a Seattle stevedoring firm.

The Army, however, said it "knows nothing" about any such agreement.

Railroad Wage Talks Broken Off As Union Prepares Strike Vote

CHICAGO, Sept. 17 (AP)—Wage talks between the railroads and their 1,000,000 non-operating workers collapsed today and a union spokesman said, "we are taking immediate steps for a strike vote."

Under the dispute-settling provisions of the National Railway Labor act, either side can ask the National (Railway) Mediation board to intervene.

However, G. E. Leighty, chairman of the labor conference committee, said: "We have not and will not ask for the services of the National Mediation board. We are spreading a strike vote among the workers immediately."

A spokesman for the employers said his group has not yet asked the mediation board to inject itself into the dispute. Asked if such a step is expected, he said he thinks that is the plan.

THE RAILROAD LABOR act provides for both mediation and intervention by a presidential fact-finding board before a strike can legally be called. The mediation board can intervene at the request of either side.

Barring new injunction action in the courts, the 16 non-operating unions presumably would be free to strike if all settlement steps of the railway labor act are exhausted without settlement.

'Cinderella's' Honeymoon Delayed by Bad Weather

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 17 (AP)—Honeymooning Francis Hitchcock, forced today to land his small airplane at Fort Pierce, Fla., shrugged aside a churchman's objection to his marriage in the Greek Orthodox church with the words:

"It doesn't make a bit of difference. We've had the religious ceremony."

Rain squalls forced the polo player and his bride, Stephanie, to cut short their flight from Daytona Beach to Miami, where they were to board a Pan American clipper for a honeymoon in Rio de Janeiro.

Truman Pledges Fight to Keep Atomic Subject Out of Politics

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—President Truman promised scientists today to continue his fight "to keep the subject of atomic energy out of partisan politics."

In that effort, Mr. Truman said, he is being opposed by "highly placed" persons "who understand neither the significance of atomic energy or the meaning of genuine national security in a democratic nation."

His letter was written in reply to the eight scientists who telegraphed him Sept. 6 expressing concern over the adequate staffing of atomic plants with scientists because of what they termed "smearing methods" by the House un-American activities committee.

Mr. Truman's reply, although he did not mention the committee by name, left no doubt he was referring to the House group.

Mr. Truman said the nation must protect itself against espionage and untrustworthy government personnel in its atomic energy plants.

Air Force Opens Probe Into Death of 5 Men Killed by Live Bombs

EGLIN FIELD, Fla., Sept. 17 (AP)—Air Force officers tried today to determine how live bombs from high-flying B29's missed their mark and plummeted into maneuvering troops, killing five and injuring 29.

The mishap occurred yesterday while Army infantrymen were engaged in fire power rehearsals.

Seven bombers, flying at 10,000 feet, loosed 69 bombs weighing 500 pounds each. Some of the missiles exploded around and among the troops.

All of the dead and all but one of the injured were Negroes. The other was a white captain.

Four of the victims died early today. The body of a fifth was found buried in a crater dug in the bomb range by one of the explosives.

Shrapnel and concussion were responsible for most of the casualties.

FIND OUT HOW SMALL

YOUR WORLD IS . . . ON AIR FORCE DAY, SEPTEMBER 18

Do you know how many hours closer to home the farthest point on earth has been brought—just since VJ Day? Do you realize how the difficulties of defending the United States from air attack have multiplied in the last three years? Do you know the amount of Air Power this country has today? Do you know what it needs in men and material to maintain adequate Air Power?

Every American can find out—and GET TO KNOW YOUR AIR FORCE BETTER—on Air Force Day. You'll discover there's something you can do for America's Air Power.

First, and most important, is for you to learn the facts. Literature will be available at Air Force Day exhibits at Air Force Bases, at National Guard Armories, Recruiting Stations and many other places.

If you are a young man from 17 to 34, you'll find that the Air Force offers you splendid training and education, with the opportunity to specialize in skills that can lead to a worthwhile career in aviation. If you are 20 to 26½, single, and have had two years of college or the equivalent, the Air Force offers you the world's finest flight training as an Aviation Cadet.

If you are still in college, you can join the Air R.O.T.C. Or, as a civilian, you can join the Air National Guard. Veterans can enlist or join the Air Force Reserve.

Watch your newspapers for the schedule of Air Force Day events and make a point of attending. If that is not possible, at least stop in and pick up a copy of the special Air Force Day pamphlet, "KNOW YOUR AIR FORCE BETTER," at your U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station.

Democrats Accused of Lying To Farmers; Truman Opens Swing

By The Associated Press

The presidential campaign began yesterday to bloom into vigor, with President Truman saying he was going to give the opposition "hell" and Governor Dewey accusing the Democrats of lying to the farmers.

Mr. Truman rolled today toward Iowa for the start of a 100-speech campaign planned by the Democrats to harvest the votes he needs to keep him in the White House four more years. It was, in the President's own words, a "give 'em hell" campaign tour.

Dewey at Albany, yesterday, accused the Truman administration of "an intentional fabrication designed to deceive the producers of food in our country."

SECRETARY OF Agriculture Brannan, in Mr. Truman's cabinet, had accused the Republicans of trying to wreck the government's food price supports. These are guarantees to farmers that the price of their products shall not fall below stipulated levels. Brannan's statement, which had Mr. Truman's endorsement, was in reply to Republican Harold Stassen's complaint that the administration was trying to keep food prices from adjusting downward.

Dewey conferred yesterday with Rep. Hope (R-Kan.) and Senator Aiken (R-Vt.), chairman and acting chairman, respectively, of the House and Senate agriculture committees.

Afterward, the GOP presidential nominee, told a news conference that the administration accusations were "created out of thin air, out of the whole cloth."

Actually, said Dewey, he believes "a firm program of price supports at reasonable levels will benefit both producers and consumers."

CARDINALS TIE PIRATES FOR 2D WITH 4-2 WIN

Howie Pollet Notches 13th Win; Babe Young Paces Redbird Attack

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals, aided by some spectacular outfield support, moved into a second place tie with Pittsburgh today by defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers, 4 to 2.

The Cards and Pirates are five and a half games behind the front-running Boston Braves. Lefty Howie Pollet gave the eight hits in recording his 13th victory against the Dodgers, while Stan Musial, although hitless for the day — added the Cardinal cause with three great catches.

REX BARNEY worked the first seven innings for Brooklyn, and was touched for all the Cardinal runs, as well as all of their seven hits. It was his 11th defeat against 14 victories.

WINE Babe Young was the batting hero for the Redbirds, driving in a pair of runs with a home run and single. Musial was easily the defensive star.

He made two sensational shortstop catches, one of them on Tom Brown's fly to short center in the eighth inning with two out and runners on first and second. In the sixth, he raced to the wall in left center for a fine gloved-hand running stab of PeeWee Reese's long smash.

ST. LOUIS scored in the first inning on Red Schoendienst's double and two outfield flies. Brooklyn knotted the score at 1-1 in the last half of the second when Gil Hodges, who drove in both Dodger runs, singled after hits by Brown and Bruce Edwards.

Brooklyn went ahead in the fourth when Brown singled, went to second on a wild pitch, to third on an infield out, and scored on Hodges' single through the box.

Young's homer, a double by Don Lang and Pollet's single put the Cardinals in front again in the fifth, 3-2. St. Louis added an insurance run in the sixth on singles by Enos Slaughter, Bill Baker and Young.

Shamrocks Face Kulpville In Grid Opener

Having had one full month of practice, the 7th Ward Shamrocks are ready to raise the curtain on another football season.

The Shamrocks, starting their first year under the guidance of Bill Rhoads, will face the Kulpville Athletic club tomorrow afternoon in the season's opener for both teams on Swinehart Field at 2:15 o'clock.

Shamrock officials say this year's team is considerably stronger than the 1947 team which had its troubles winning. The team has added quite a few new players and is looking forward to a good year with its new coach.

THE SQUAD is made up of 25 players from Pottstown, Spring City, Royersford and North Coventry. The Shamrocks use the T-formation and the box formation for its ground and aerial attacks.

Rhoads wasn't sure of a starting lineup last night, but announced his probable starting lineup would probably have George Swinehart and Bob Beckley at ends; Charles Buckwalter and Bob Fox at tackles; Al Wertman and Doug Hartline at guards; Phil Thees at center; Jack Eck at quarterback; Mike Born and Rich Meyers at halfbacks and Bob Bailey at fullback.

Ready for action if necessary are Harry Weidensbaugh, Adolf Hums, Bob Wright, Pete Neiffer, John Horn, Paul Hums, Pete Fox, Charles Cook, Dick Gible, Paul Gible and Bob Bean.

Team officials announced last night that no admission will be charged at tomorrow's game.

McCarthyemen Maintain Slim Lead Over Yankees; Doerr Betters Record

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17 (AP) — Two St. Louis pitchers had trouble finding the plate, and the league-leading Boston Red Sox maintained their slender margin over the second-place New York Yankees by defeating the Browns 9-3 today. Only 1922 paid to see the important contest.

The Yankees, one game back, and the Cleveland Indians, two and one-half games off the pace, also turned in victories in the torrid American league pennant chase.

Sterling defensive play by his mates that produced five double plays helped Joe Dobson out of several tight spots. He scattered seven hits and walked six in going the route.

BOBBY DOERR handled ten chances flawlessly, running his record-breaking number of consecutive chances handled without an error to 396.

Outfielder Sam Mele, who sent the Sox off to a quick lead with a three-run double in the first, was carried off the field on a stretcher after injuring his right ankle sliding into third on an attempted steal in the fourth.

Bill Kennedy, the starting Brownie pitcher and the loser, issued six bases on balls, hit Vern Stephens with a pitched ball and was charged with a wild pitch. Carl Drews, the third of four hurlers used by Manager Zack Taylor, was charged with two wild pitches and walked four.

A two-run double by Wally Moses featured a three-run uprising in the fifth that broke a 3-3 deadlock. An error by Al Zarilla, Kennedy's wild pitch and a double by Ted Williams also figured in the fifth-inning scoring.

Hegan, Feller Carry Indians To 4-1 Win Over Senators

CLEVELAND, Sept. 17 (AP) — Cleveland Indians' catcher Jim Hegan batted in three runs with his 13th homer and a single today as his battery-mate, Bob Feller, fanned 11 and handed the Washington Nationals their 17th straight defeat, 4-1.

Feller took over the American league lead in strikeouts as he passed teammate Bob Lemon with a total of 146. The rallying fireballer gained his 16th victory against 14 losses by limiting the Nats to five hits.

Ken Keltner slammed his 27th homer a new season record for the veteran third baseman—for the fourth Tribal run in the sixth inning.

Keltner started the Indians' scoring in the second frame with a single to center. Hegan then rapped a line drive circuit, clout over the left field fence to give the Tribe a 2-0 lead and another season homer mark for the rangy catcher.

Hegan added his third RBI in the third when his single followed a pair of walks to Larry Doby and Walt Jundich.

BOMBERS BLAST BENGALS EARLY FOR EASY WIN

Score 11 Runs in First Three Innings; Lindell, Henrich, Rizzuto Homer

DETROIT, Sept. 17 (AP) — Jamming across six runs before a man was out in the first inning, the second place New York Yankees shellacked Detroit 13 to 5 today.

The win enabled New York to stay on the heels of the Boston Red Sox, who beat St. Louis 9-3 to remain a full game out front in the hot American league race.

The Yanks unleashed their homer power to score six runs on four-ply belts by Johnny Lindell, Tom Henrich and Phil Rizzuto, but the circuit smashes weren't needed.

Five walks, two singles and Rizzuto's double put the first eight men who batted on base and the first six of them scored.

The Yanks, leading 6-0, then started belting for distance. Lindell hammered his 13th homer into the upper left field seats for two runs in the second and Byrne's triple, Neil Berry's error, a pass and Henrich's 23rd four-bagger produced three more in the third to make it 11-0.

Sellersville-Perkasie Defeats Pennsburg in 4th Quarter, 7-0

2000 FANS SEE VICTORS MARCH 94 YARDS FOR TD

Home Team Stops Bulldogs
Seven Different Times
Within 20-Yard Stripes

Forced to play defensive football throughout the first three periods, Sellersville-Perkasie High's never-say-die grid team marched 94 yards midway through the fourth period for the only touchdown of the game to defeat Pennsburg High's Bulldogs, 7-0, in the opening game of the season for both schools last night on the victor's field.

Pennsburg, trying to make Coach Lou Pirnik's debut a successful one, was knocking at the touchdown door all night, but the home lads pushed back every threat.

AFTER STOPPING seven Pennsburg thrusts inside the 20-yard stripe, Sellersville-Perkasie started its touchdown drive from its own six-yard line following a Pennsburg punt which rolled out of bounds.

With Eddie Schock and Bill Rufe doing most of the ball-lugging, the home team marched to the Pennsburg 25-yard line from where Schock swept the end to reach pay dirt.

Pennsburg's left end, Joe Nolfe, stopped Schock on the line of scrimmage when he grabbed Schock's arm. Nolfe spun the ball carrier around three times before Schock broke loose and darted for the goal line. Nufé added the extra point by a placement kick.

Pennsburg's Bulldogs worked their way inside the home team's 10-yard line twice during the game but couldn't score. At one time the visitors reached the six-inch line, but a five-yard penalty pushed them back the Sellersville-Perkasie held. Five other times Pennsburg moved beyond the 20-yard line but couldn't get over the last white line. Lineups:

Louis Says He'll Fight Winner Of Charles-Baksi Bout in June

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—Joe Louis said today he might return to the ring and defend his heavyweight boxing title for the 26th time.

He made his announcement through the 20th Century Sporting club of Mike Jacobs, for whom he has fought throughout his title career.

Hardly had that news been announced than the Tournament of Champions, Inc., first group ever to challenge Jacobs' promotional dominance, said its Gus Lesnevich-Jersey Joe Walcott bout had been canceled.

Lesnevich, it was said, suffered a broken bone in his little toe on his right foot, in a fall down the steps of the postoffice in his hometown at Cliffside, N. J., yesterday.

THE VETERAN, one-time light-heavyweight champion, and Walcott were to have gone 15 rounds as the co-feature of a card that also included the middleweight title bout between Marcel Cerdan of France and champion Tony Zale of Gary, Ind.

The ring doubleheader is scheduled for Jersey City, N. J., next Tuesday night. Andy Neiderreiter, promoter for the T of C, said the show would be held and that he was seeking a replacement for Lesnevich.

"If Joe Baksi and Ezzard Charles put up a good fight and the winner comes through good, I'll fight him," said the 34-year-old Louis today. He announced his retirement after knocking out Walcott in 11 rounds at Yankee stadium the past June.

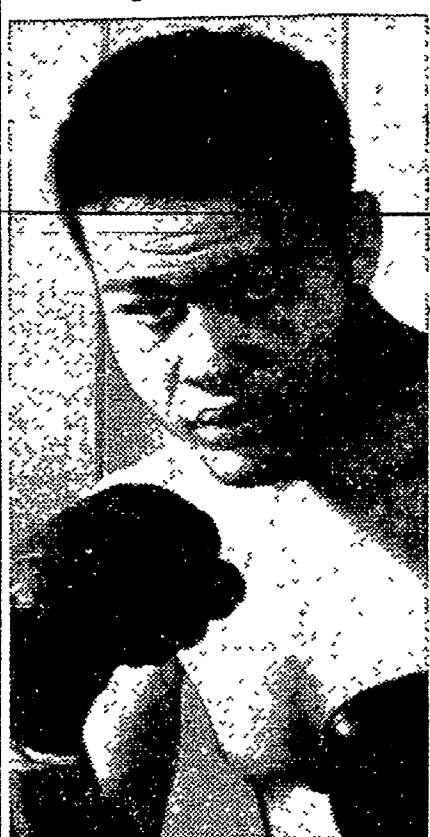

BAKSI AND CHARLES have been matched by Jacobs for a Nov. 12 appearance in Madison Square Garden.

Louis said he would take on the winner in Yankee stadium next June. His return to the ring robbed the Lesnevich-Walcott bout on the rival promotional concern's card of all its luster. It was billed as the "world's number one heavyweight bout" on the assumption that Louis was through.

Louis twice has whipped Walcott. Lesnevich lost his light-heavyweight title to Freddie Mills of England, this Summer.

THREE DOCTORS examined Lesnevich's foot today. A tournament of Champions spokesman said that Louis, Dr. R. Z. Goldenberg had been called in by Abe Greene of Paterson, N. J., commissioner of the National Boxing association.

Bostonians Increase Lead
To Five and a Half Games
Over Pittsburgh Rival

BOSTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Boston's hustling Braves took a long step toward their first pennant in years when they vanquished the persistent Pittsburgh Pirates 6-2 today behind their leading pitcher, righthander Johnny Sain, who won his 21st victory.

The victory extended the Braves' National league lead to five and a half games over the Pirates and over the St. Louis Cardinals who defeated the Brooklyn Dodgers. The Dodgers now are six games in back of the Braves.

A surprisingly small crowd of 11,838 saw Sain and his mates hold the Pirates in subjection except in the seventh inning when the Pittsburghers scored their runs.

Frank Parker Beaten In Tennis Tourney

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—Dick (Pancho) Gonzales, a tall, dark Mexican-American youngster from Los Angeles, powered his way into the semi-finals of the National Tennis championships today with a remarkable four-set victory over the favorite, Frankie Parker.

In just over two hours of playing time, the 20-year-old with the "big" game destroyed the veteran Parker's dreams of winning his third national crown and planted himself squarely in the forefront of this country's future greats. The scores were 8-6, 2-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Venango Bears Come Here To Battle Maria Assunta AC

The vicious Venango Bears of Philadelphia Middle Atlantic welterweight champions in the Pop Warner football conference the past year, will stroll into town tomorrow afternoon to do battle with Maria Assunta AC in the latter's opening game of the year.

The game is scheduled for the West Pottsgrove High field. Kickoff is listed for 2:15 o'clock. The Bears, who have dominated amateur football in the Philadelphia area for the past six years, will be seeking their second consecutive win tomorrow. The Philadelphia opened their season Thursday night by defeating New York AC, 22-6, in Philadelphia.

MARIA ASSUNTA will enter tomorrow's game the underdogs, but Coach Earl Strange won't be too surprised if his team should upset the strong Bears.

The former Pottstown High mentor has been preparing his team for this battle for the past month and thinks they are just about ready for their first game.

New players have strength ened the Maria Assunta team considerably this year and team officials are looking forward to a successful season. Strange said if the Maria Assunta team can get by the Bears without any injuries and possibly a victory, it may turn out to be a very good year.

Strange announced last night that different co-captains will be selected for each Maria Assunta game. After last night's final workout, the team elected Paul Axsmith and "Pearce" Smith to act as captains in tomorrow's game.

An oddity in tomorrow's game will have Chuck Wiley playing fullback for Pottstown and Chick Wiley playing quarterback for Philadelphia.

Probable starting lineups:
Pottstown Pos. Philadelphia

Five-Run Uprising in 9th Inning Enables A's to Rout Chicago, 9-6

CHICAGO, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics rallied to score five runs in the ninth inning here tonight to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 9-6, before 6196 persons.

Walt Holborow, fourth of five Philadelphia pitchers was the winner for his first victory. Howie Judson was charged with the loss.

The White Sox held a 4-0 lead going into the seventh inning. The Mackmen scored three times to clip Chicago's lead to one run, but the Pale Hose added two runs in their half of the inning to stay in front by three runs.

Philadelphia scored once in the eighth inning and then exploded for five big runs in the ninth to take the victory away from the White Sox.

Ben Chapman got the Athletics started when he rapped a home run with one man on base in the seventh inning.

Nine pitchers paraded to the mound in tonight's game with the Pale Hose using four and Philadelphia using five.

HOMERS HELP REDLEGS DOWN NEW YORK, 5-3

Kluszewski, Stallcup
Smash Round-Trippers;
Vander Meer Is Winner

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP)—Johnny Vander Meer hurled Cincinnati to a 5-3 victory over New York today, as the Giants felt 8½ games behind the leading Boston Braves and 2½ games behind the fourth place Brooklyn Dodgers.

Home runs turned the trick for the Reds in a three-run barrage against Sheldon Jones in the fourth. Ted Kluszewski hit his 12th homer with a man on and Red Stallcup smashed his third in the big inning.

A walk, single and Whitey Lockman's double pulled the Giants within one run of a tie in the fifth, but the Reds added an insurance run in the sixth. Bobby Adams was hit by a pitched ball, and moved around on Kluszewski's single and two force plays.

It was Vander Meer's 15th win to 13 defeats and Jones' eighth loss to 15 victories. The game was witnessed by 22,719 fans, the smallest Polo Grounds turnout of the year.

Palestinian Tells Of Israel's Battle Against the Arabs

Ephraim Kaufmann, a native Palestinian who lost his right arm in the fighting in Palestine Thursday night, described the sacrifices which the new state of Israel has been making in its struggle against the seven Arab nations.

Kaufmann told of the struggle at a dinner meeting of the Pottstown district, Zionist Organization of America, held in the vestry rooms of the Congregation Mercy and Truth Synagog.

In the short period of time since Nov. 29, 1947, when the fighting began, he pointed out, the Israelis have built 16 new settlements and have brought in 33,000 Jewish refugees. Their work was accomplished in spite of the hostilities and two periods of the "uneasy truce."

Kaufmann minimized the efforts of the U.N. mediation. Of 1000 U.N. observers who are to enforce the truce, he said, only two are permanently situated in the Arab lands. The remainder are in the Israeli capital, Tel Aviv, or are there on weekends.

If it were not for the British supplying the Transjordanian army with funds, equipment, and military leaders, he continued, the Jewish forces might have already broken through to Amman, the capital of Transjordan, and have ended the fighting.

Jacob Raden, president of the Pottstown Zionist district, conducted a brief business meeting after Kaufmann's address and a film on Palestine.

Mrs. Thomas Weiss had charge of the dinner. Her committee included Mrs. Jacob Raden, Mrs. Bernath Roth, Mrs. Milton Adler, Mrs. Herbert Berger, Mrs. Albert Spivack, Mrs. Stanley Bressler, Mrs. Leon Levitz, Mrs. Milton Hirsch, Mrs. Abe Cohen, Mrs. Rose Hirsch, Mrs. Amelia Estericher, Mrs. Louis Gussman, Mrs. David Alexander, Mrs. Bernath Berger, Mrs. Louis Markowitz, Mrs. Jerome Eisner, Mrs. Edith Hoffman, Rita Kessler, Rhoda Kessler, Doris Leventhal and Gertrude Sokal.

Murder-in-Sky Case Pondered by Police

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (P)—Police pondered today the strange case of what appeared to be murder in the sky.

The bizarre affair came to light following the crash last night of a small plane carrying a man and a 28-year-old woman.

An autopsy disclosed three bullet wounds in the body of the woman, identified by authorities as Hannah Laufer.

Medical examiner William Benenson said Miss Laufer had been shot and killed before the crash, in which the pilot, 31-year-old Jesus Menaeu Monleon, perished. An unhappy love affair was indicated.

The small, rented plane plunged to earth in remote marshland near the New York International airport after several efforts to land both at International and LaGuardia fields.

One Man Killed, 2 Hurt In Blast at Viscose Plant

LEWISTOWN, Sept. 17 (P)—An explosion at the Lewistown plant of the American Viscose corporation killed one workman and injured two others today.

The blast in a vulcanizing tank hurled its door 25 feet. The door struck Wayne Rhodes Phenice, 32, a pipefitter helper, in the side. He died 25 minutes later in the plant dispensary.

Glenn Woomer, 40, and Max Hutchinson, 39, suffered minor injuries.

Second Fire Drill Is Accomplished at Hospital in 8 Seconds

It took eight seconds to get extinguishers and stretchers to the "point of alarm" yesterday afternoon when the second shift of Memorial hospital held fire drill.

The drill was the second in two weeks at the hospital. As with the first one for the first shift, yesterday's maneuver went off without a hitch.

Doctors, internes, house men, janitors, laboratory workers, X-ray department workers and the hospital administrator moved swiftly to the point of alarm in the west wing, first floor, with about ten extinguishers and a handful of stretchers for evacuation of patients.

MEANWHILE, NURSES, doctors in the operating or delivery rooms and telephone switchboard operator stood by their posts. All doors were closed and all visitors and employees not busy at the time gathered in the lobby.

Instructions for drill have been given to the third shift. In the near future, they will hold a surprise drill between the hours of 11 p. m. to 7 a. m.

Fire control committee members are Albert P. Pollock, student administrator, Mrs. Mabel Fredericks, director of nurses, Drs. Harold McLaren and Earl Manning, internes, Nicholas Yanos, maintenance worker, Thomas Neiffer, laboratory technician, and Louise Haire, night supervisor.

Spring Mount Man Killed In Fall From Girder

NORRISTOWN, Sept. 17 (P)—A 132-foot fall from a steel girder today killed Joseph Stewart, 26-year-old iron worker.

Stewart, of Spring Mount, Montgomery county, was employed by the Dravo Construction corporation of Philadelphia. Dravo is building a power plant on Barbados Island for the Philadelphia Electric company.

Police said Stewart lost his grip.

Philadelphia Priest Speaks to Foremen On Labor Relations

The Rev. Dennis J. Comey, director of the Industrial Relations Institute at St. Joseph's college, Philadelphia, emphasized the human side of labor-management relations at a meeting of the YMCA Executives' and Foremen's club last night.

Father Comey spoke before 155 club members in the "Y" auditorium, as they held their first dinner-meeting of the 1948-49 season.

The speaker stressed the "freedom of individuality" as he presented both management's and labor's side of industrial difficulties.

James F. Baird was presented to the club members both as new general secretary of the Pottstown YMCA and as executive secretary of the Executives' and Foremen's club.

DURING THE business session it was announced that the club's executive committee would meet at 7:30 p. m., Sept. 21, in the YMCA.

Members of the club were invited to attend the 25th annual convention of the National Association of Foremen in Philadelphia from Sept. 23-25.

The Rev. William N. Begley, rector of St. Aloysius Catholic church, delivered the invocation and introduced the speaker.

David Morris Receives Ribbon Won by Troop 3

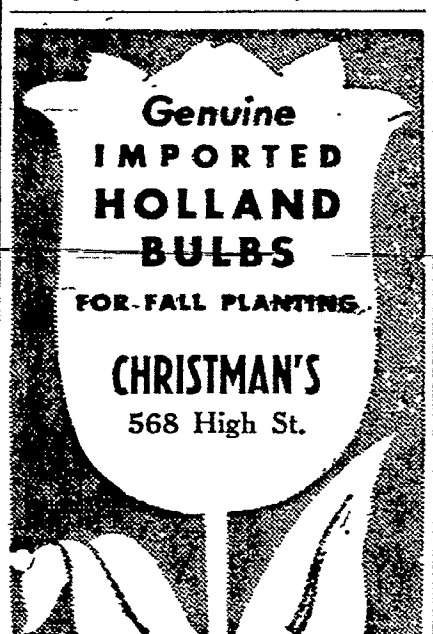

Senior Patrol Leader David Morris, of Scout Troop 3, was presented with the Scoutdoors ribbon won by the troop for Summer camping at Camp Delmont, Scoutmaster John Howard announced yesterday.

Howard said the award was made at a Parents' night meeting held in the First Presbyterian church Thursday night. Parents and members of the troop committee attended the celebration marking the Fall roundup of old and new scouts.

The ribbon, which was presented by Howard to Morris, will be attached to the troop flag.

Howard also announced that Assistant Scoutmaster Ivan Leahman would take the troop on an overnight camping trip to the troop's Chester county camp site today.

Four new boys and 14 old scouts took part in the meeting.
